

FOURTH'S DEATH TOLL IS 274

Geneva Conference At Critical Stage ENGLAND AND U. S. DIFFER ON TONNAGES 1 KILLED AND OVER 50 HURT IN COUNTY HOLIDAY ACCIDENTS

Technical Commission Resumes Discussions; Adjourns After Brief Meeting
DEADLOCK NOW LOOMS
JONES, in Fourth of July Speech, Asserts America Will Insist Upon Parity

(By United Press)
GENEVA, July 5.—Naval limitation conferences were confronted with a temporarily complete deadlock today. The technical commission that met to tackle the difficult cruiser question adjourned after a short meeting in which it developed that none of the delegations had changed its position regarding either cruiser or the few remaining outstanding submarine questions.

During their week-end adjournment, prolonged over yesterday so Americans could celebrate the Fourth, delegates had been looking forward with concern to today's meeting because of wide divergence regarding cruiser size, armament and total tonnage.

It is authoritatively understood that American Adm. Hilary P. Jones, trying to avert the deadlock on cruisers, introduced a compromise project at the technical commission's meeting.

Under his plan, it is understood, Great Britain and the United States would be allotted cruisers totaling 400,000 tons—100,000 more than originally proposed by the United States.

Seek Informal Agreement
But the British delegation held out for 550,000 tons and it became necessary to adjourn the meeting so that heads of the delegation could seek agreement in informal conference.

The technical commission this morning had been able to reach only one decision—fixing the size of submarine tubes at 21 inches.

The agreement on classes of submarines, optimistically reported Saturday, had not borne successful fruit the test of week-end reflections.

An already thick situation was complicated by Japanese refusal to accept six-inch guns as the maximum armament for the 750-ton cruisers proposed by Great Britain.

Seeing no immediate hope of agreement, the technical commission adjourned without fixing a date for its next meeting.

No formal meetings of any sort were expected before Friday, when the executive committee was to see whether progress had been made in bringing divergent views nearer to each other.

Jones Tells Differences
Admiral Jones, of the American delegation, discussing the deadlock with newspaper correspondents, said the United States was demanding establishment of a single maximum of 1800 tons for submarines, while Great Britain wanted two classes.

The conference began the third week of its discussions with the Independence day speech of Rear Adm. Hilary P. Jones fresh in mind. Addressing the American colony here yesterday with the majesty of the American commission present, Jones, who is himself a member of the commission, made it plain that the U. S. delegation would insist on a parity with Great Britain in naval power.

Auto Mishaps Account For Most Injuries
ONE MAN was killed and more than 50 persons were injured in accidents which occurred in Orange county during the three-day holiday period extending over the Fourth of July.

At least 35 of those injured were victims of automobile accidents which occurred in traffic said by state traffic officers to have been the heaviest here in more than a year.

Others were injured at the Orange county benches while baling in the surf and by firecrackers. All the accidents caused by fireworks took place at Newport Beach and at Seal Beach.

Although the automobile accident list was the largest reported here this year, over a week-end, few of those hurt were in a serious condition today, a majority of the injured being taken to their homes after being given first aid at drug stores and at hospitals here and in other Orange county cities.

Long Beach Man Dies
An inquest was expected to be held today over the body of W. C. Schatrapp, 41, used car dealer of 227 American avenue, Long Beach, who was fatally injured Sunday morning when the car in which he was riding with three friends, ran off the road three miles south of San Juan Capistrano.

Relatives of the man have been hard to locate, according to Coroner Charles D. Brown, who said he had learned, however, that Schatrapp's wife was visiting in Plainview, Tex.

Schatrapp, until recently, had been a resident of Santa Monica where he held the agency for an automobile. He had been residing in Long Beach only a short period, it was said.

His car, a 1927, 1227 Ninth street, Los Angeles, was driving the machine at the time it left the road, he reported at the sheriff's office. He said that the front wheels of the car suddenly locked, throwing the car off the road. The machine did not overturn, and no one was injured other than Schatrapp, who died of internal injuries received when he was thrown violently against the side of the machine, Coroner Brown said.

Two Others in Car
The other men in the machine were Roy George, and G. W. McBride, both of 1227 East Ninth street, Los Angeles.

Immediately following the accident, Schatrapp was taken to San Juan Capistrano, where medical aid was obtained. He died within a few minutes. The body was removed to the Winbinger Mission funeral home, pending the coroner's inquest.

Herbert Porter, Los Angeles, is believed to have suffered a broken back when he struck his head while diving at Newport Beach yesterday. He is paralyzed from the shoulders down.

After medical aid, given him on the beach, failed, he was removed to his home at 1119 West Fifty-Sixth street, Los Angeles, in a Huntington Beach ambulance.

Reports from the beach city were to the effect that at least 14 persons were treated there yesterday and Sunday for burns caused by firecrackers and the sun. At the Richter-Grundy hospital, more than a dozen persons were given first aid treatment, it was said. Among them were: Mrs. P. Sloan, Compton, severely bruised and cut when a car in which she was riding with her husband overturned at Costa Mesa. She later was removed to her home.

TACOMA, Wn., July 5.—"Stub" Campbell, 62, Hollywood daredevil, laughed today as he declared he had suffered no ill effects from a two-hour soaking in the cold waters of Puget Sound after he misjudged the velocity of wind in a parachute jump.

Campbell jumped from an airplane 2000 feet in the air and was carried five miles out into the sound. He was picked up by three boys in a rowboat.

Grand Jury In L. A. Resumes Julian Probe
President Is Attracted by Daring and Skillful Feats of Riders

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—The county grand jury investigating the Julian Petroleum corporation crash, adjourned today until Friday after a brief session at which no witnesses were questioned.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—With the prediction that 20 or 30 more financiers and bankers will be added to the 55 already under indictment, new phases of the Julian Petroleum corporation crash were scheduled to be taken up when the grand jury convenes today.

Julian pools, including one which involves a ring of San Francisco money lenders, will hold the attention of the grand jurors, who return to the inquiry following a week's vacation.

Meanwhile investigators of the district attorney's office are gathering information concerning persistent reports that Spring street brokers knew of the vast over-inflated stock long before the crash came and that they dealt in the spurious certificates.

Activity in the Julian case will be renewed on every "front" today.

Federal Receivers Joseph Scott and H. L. Carnahan took over the books and records of the A. C. Wagy and company and began an exhaustive investigation of the condition of the suspended brokerage house, which was owned by S. C. Lewis, retired president of the Julian corporation.

Byrd and Crew Will Sail for U. S. Tuesday
Levine and Chamberlin May Also Be Passengers on Leviathan

PARIS, July 5.—Unless plans are further changed, crews of both American transatlantic airplanes now here will sail for New York next Tuesday on the United States liner, Leviathan.

They would arrive at New York July 18.

Officials at the American embassy said definitely that Com. Richard E. Byrd, of the monoplane America, and Bernt Balchen, Bert Acosta and Lt. George Noville, his crew, would sail on the Leviathan.

Charles A. Levine announced that he and Clarence D. Chamberlin, pilot of the Bellanca monoplane Columbia, would sail on the Leviathan unless they decided at the last moment to fly back.

Herbert A. Gibbons, personal representative of Robert M. Spangler, backer of the American flight, said that whatever ship the Byrd crew went in, they would go together.

Bernt Balchen had said previously to the United Press that he was going on the Leviathan and believed the others would.

Levine said he was going to London Friday prior to embarking. Chamberlin, holding French pilot's license, performed thrilling stunts in a strange plane at Le Bourget today, explaining: "I just want to keep my hand in, in case I want to fly soon."

Raging Grass Blaze Sweeps Grazing Lands
Uncontrolled Flames Burn Over 5000 Acres in Fresno Region

(By United Press)
FRESNO, July 5.—The fifth grass fire in two days broke out near the foothill village of Academy, east of here, late last night and today was burning uncontrolled.

A large force of fire fighters was battling to prevent further inroads on large areas of grazing land lying in the path of the blaze. More than 5000 acres had been burned over early today.

Four other fires, all believed ignited by cigarettes dropped by passing motorists, burned over 6000 acres, including 500 acres of ripe grain, yesterday.

Yesterday the women of the ranchers' families took the field to fight the fire in the absence of all the men at the scene of another blaze.

3 Negroes Sought in Texas Slays
ALLANREED, Texas, July 5.—Seeking three negroes who worked at the home of Frank Weatherby near here, local officials were at a loss today to account for the killing of the entire Weatherby family.

The bodies of Weatherby, his wife and two children, a girl, 6, and a boy, 4, were found in the home yesterday.

Nothing had been seen of the Weatherby family for several days and neighbors became alarmed. An investigation was made and the bodies found.

Weatherby was lying in one room, shot through the head, while the bodies of the others were found under a mattress in an adjoining room. Apparently Mrs. Weatherby and the children had been killed by blows from a crowbar, found nearby.

A police officer is patrolling the area, where more than 250 acres were burned over Sunday.

De La Huerta Is Arraigned Today
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Adolfo De La Huerta, former president of Mexico, and nine asserted companions, charged with conspiring to violate the neutrality laws, are scheduled to be arraigned here today, at which time date for trial will be fixed. The former Mexican official is charged with implication in a plot to "run" munitions across the Mexican border in an indictment returned by the federal grand jury.

Alleged Bandit Admits Identity
EL CENTRO, Calif., July 5.—Joe Martin, alias M. Moore, alleged Los Angeles "petting party" bandit, was enroute to Los Angeles today, following his arrest last night on a ranch near here. Martin, approached by Los Angeles deputy sheriffs, first denied identity, but later admitted that he was the man wanted, it was said.

Bomb Is Found At Building Entrance
SPOKANE, Wn., July 5.—A bomb containing 102 sticks of dynamite was found in the entrance of the Spokesman-Review building here today. The fuse had been ignited but had gone out just before the spark would have reached the charge. The fuse was still warm when the janitor found the explosive.

Had the bomb exploded it is likely that the tower of the 12-story building would have crashed into the street as the dynamite was found under the arch supporting it.

A tier of lower floors in the building is occupied by the Spokesman-Review and Spokane Chronicle, afternoon papers owned by William Cowles.

Golf Is Blamed For Man's Death
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Too much Sunday golf, with a strain on a weak heart, was believed to have been responsible for the death of Paul C. Whitice, 40, well-to-do real estate operator, found dead on the floor of his home at 6517 Country Club drive yesterday.

A poison bottle, found in the bathroom, aroused the theory that Whitice may have killed himself. Mrs. Whitice maintained that her husband had died from heart trouble. She declared that he had been a sufferer from that ailment for some time.

Police and coroner therefore decided that he died from organic trouble.

Grace Will Rebuild Plane For Trans-Pacific Attempt
BARKING SANDS, Island of Kauai, July 5.—Richard Grace, movie stunt flyer, whose attempted trans-Pacific flight ended when his plane crashed here yesterday, will rebuild his plane and try again, according to statements by Grace and his mechanic, L. E. B. Koger, to the United Press.

A cable received from Maj. Grant E. Dolge, backer of the flight, authorized the rebuilding of the ship and asked that Grace, Koger and M. Spang, the chief rigger, stick together and complete their undertaking, Koger said.

"Dolge is a thorough sportsman," said Koger, "and I knew he would say 'go to it.'"

Grace was heartbroken after his crash and spent the day moodily about the plantation. Koger worked all day dismantling and crating the plane.

11 DEATHS REPORTED FROM SOUTHWEST
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 5.—Eleven deaths and scores of injuries constituted the Fourth of July toll in the southwest, according to reports reaching here today. The deaths resulted from drownings, fire and motor car accidents. Dozens of accidents were reported from the various states in the southwest, but for the most part injuries in the crashes were minor.

Clyde Coats, an automobile racer, was killed in a race at Abilene, Texas.

Two girls, sisters, drowned at Muskogee, Okla. Two were killed in Dallas, Texas, with four more believed dying as a result of motor car injuries and an oil worker was killed near Tecumseh, Okla., by a firecracker.

One boy drowned near Whitesville, Mo., a girl drowned at Oswego, Kas., and a man drowned near Sedalia, Mo.

A 10-year-old boy died in an automobile accident at Wichita, Kas. A 15-year-old girl died from

CHINESE MOB BATTLES WITH 2 OFFICERS OVER FIREWORKS
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Two Chinamen were being held in jail today charged with disturbing the peace after a riot in Chinatown last night that followed an attempt by authorities to stop the sale of fireworks.

Accompanied by Police Officer James P. Fogarty, Fireman H. B. Hoag went to the Oriental settlement and began efforts to enforce the fireworks ordinance. Their intrusion was resented and a furious battle followed, in which Fogarty and Hoag were backed against a brick wall.

When police reserves arrived they found the two officers the center of a mob of milling Orientals and the riot squad closed in and rescued the two men. Both were treated at the Emergency hospital for slight bruises.

Poy Wong and Bill Hong were arrested as the leaders of the mob.

CELEBRATIONS OVER COUNTRY Assume Proportions of Major National Disaster
HUNDREDS ARE HURT Greatest Number Fatalities Is Reported From Metropolitan New York

(By United Press)
NEARLY 300 persons lost their lives in the nation's three-day celebration of the 151st anniversary of its independence, reports to the United Press from every section of the country showed today.

Literally hundreds were injured. The celebration assumed the proportions of a major disaster, similar to the toll exacted by devastating floods and hurricanes, as reports continued coming in.

With some sections still to report, the death list stood at 274 this afternoon.

The majority of the deaths were due to automobile accidents, as people everywhere swarmed on crowded roads for holiday outings. Drownings accounted for scores more.

Hundreds Are Burned
Deaths from firecrackers, pistols and explosives used in celebration were smaller, due to the universal appeal for a "safe and sane" Fourth, but a surprisingly large number lost their lives, while hundreds were burned or mutilated.

The greatest toll was taken in the Metropolitan New York area and surrounding New Jersey, where 19 were killed in traffic accidents, 17 were drowned and one death was due to fireworks.

More than 250 were treated in the New York hospitals for burns received from fireworks.

The next highest death toll was in Indiana, where 34 lives were lost. In New York state, outside of the city, 29 were killed.

Twenty-seven deaths occurred in the three-day period on the Pacific coast, the majority due to automobile accidents and drownings. Two deaths were directly caused by fireworks.

S. M. Harris, 51, was killed at Cheney, Wn., in the explosion of a bomb of his own manufacture. Clara Welkey, 3, was burned to death at Gilroy, Calif., when her dress caught fire from firecrackers.

List of Dead
The death list to date follows:
New York City and New Jersey, 42.
New York state (outside New York City), 20.
New England, 8.
Pennsylvania, 21.
Delaware and Maryland, 2.
Washington, D. C., and Virginia, 5.

COOLIDGE WILL BE GUEST AT 'WILD AND WOOLLY' ROUNDUP
Parachute Jumper Is 'All Wet'

TACOMA, Wn., July 5.—"Stub" Campbell, 62, Hollywood daredevil, laughed today as he declared he had suffered no ill effects from a two-hour soaking in the cold waters of Puget Sound after he misjudged the velocity of wind in a parachute jump.

Campbell jumped from an airplane 2000 feet in the air and was carried five miles out into the sound. He was picked up by three boys in a rowboat.

Grand Jury In L. A. Resumes Julian Probe
President Is Attracted by Daring and Skillful Feats of Riders

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—The county grand jury investigating the Julian Petroleum corporation crash, adjourned today until Friday after a brief session at which no witnesses were questioned.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—With the prediction that 20 or 30 more financiers and bankers will be added to the 55 already under indictment, new phases of the Julian Petroleum corporation crash were scheduled to be taken up when the grand jury convenes today.

Julian pools, including one which involves a ring of San Francisco money lenders, will hold the attention of the grand jurors, who return to the inquiry following a week's vacation.

Meanwhile investigators of the district attorney's office are gathering information concerning persistent reports that Spring street brokers knew of the vast over-inflated stock long before the crash came and that they dealt in the spurious certificates.

Activity in the Julian case will be renewed on every "front" today.

Federal Receivers Joseph Scott and H. L. Carnahan took over the books and records of the A. C. Wagy and company and began an exhaustive investigation of the condition of the suspended brokerage house, which was owned by S. C. Lewis, retired president of the Julian corporation.

Raging Grass Blaze Sweeps Grazing Lands
Uncontrolled Flames Burn Over 5000 Acres in Fresno Region

(By United Press)
FRESNO, July 5.—The fifth grass fire in two days broke out near the foothill village of Academy, east of here, late last night and today was burning uncontrolled.

A large force of fire fighters was battling to prevent further inroads on large areas of grazing land lying in the path of the blaze. More than 5000 acres had been burned over early today.

Four other fires, all believed ignited by cigarettes dropped by passing motorists, burned over 6000 acres, including 500 acres of ripe grain, yesterday.

Yesterday the women of the ranchers' families took the field to fight the fire in the absence of all the men at the scene of another blaze.

3 Negroes Sought in Texas Slays
ALLANREED, Texas, July 5.—Seeking three negroes who worked at the home of Frank Weatherby near here, local officials were at a loss today to account for the killing of the entire Weatherby family.

The bodies of Weatherby, his wife and two children, a girl, 6, and a boy, 4, were found in the home yesterday.

Nothing had been seen of the Weatherby family for several days and neighbors became alarmed. An investigation was made and the bodies found.

Weatherby was lying in one room, shot through the head, while the bodies of the others were found under a mattress in an adjoining room. Apparently Mrs. Weatherby and the children had been killed by blows from a crowbar, found nearby.

A police officer is patrolling the area, where more than 250 acres were burned over Sunday.

De La Huerta Is Arraigned Today
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Adolfo De La Huerta, former president of Mexico, and nine asserted companions, charged with conspiring to violate the neutrality laws, are scheduled to be arraigned here today, at which time date for trial will be fixed. The former Mexican official is charged with implication in a plot to "run" munitions across the Mexican border in an indictment returned by the federal grand jury.

Alleged Bandit Admits Identity
EL CENTRO, Calif., July 5.—Joe Martin, alias M. Moore, alleged Los Angeles "petting party" bandit, was enroute to Los Angeles today, following his arrest last night on a ranch near here. Martin, approached by Los Angeles deputy sheriffs, first denied identity, but later admitted that he was the man wanted, it was said.

Bomb Is Found At Building Entrance
SPOKANE, Wn., July 5.—A bomb containing 102 sticks of dynamite was found in the entrance of the Spokesman-Review building here today. The fuse had been ignited but had gone out just before the spark would have reached the charge. The fuse was still warm when the janitor found the explosive.

Had the bomb exploded it is likely that the tower of the 12-story building would have crashed into the street as the dynamite was found under the arch supporting it.

A tier of lower floors in the building is occupied by the Spokesman-Review and Spokane Chronicle, afternoon papers owned by William Cowles.

Golf Is Blamed For Man's Death
LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Too much Sunday golf, with a strain on a weak heart, was believed to have been responsible for the death of Paul C. Whit

1 KILLED, OVER 50 INJURED IN ORANGE COUNTY

when their car collided with another machine in the business section of Balboa.

Burned by Firecracker

Mrs. Gladys Oser, Los Angeles, burned when a firecracker, thrown by a playful youngster, exploded on her stomach. She was lying on the sands at Newport Beach.

Mrs. M. A. Sourlier, 55, Los Angeles, arm broken when knocked down while watching bathers in the surf.

William Miller, Alhambra youth, badly cut about the head when a surf board was dashed against him by a breaker.

Joe Willis, a sailor on the U. S. S. Corry, stationed at San Diego, is in the Fullerton hospital with a fractured skull and possible internal injuries as a result of an automobile crash yesterday afternoon.

Willis and a fellow sailor, G. R. Ingram, of the same ship, were riding in a car owned by a man whose name was not learned. A car driven by Joe Morales, of Fullerton, is said to have collided with the automobile in which the sailors were riding at the intersection of Orangehorpe and Highland avenues.

Ingram was badly bruised, but is not believed to be seriously injured. Others involved in the crash escaped uninjured.

One woman was perhaps fatally injured and five other persons received internal injuries, bruises and lacerations in an automobile accident near San Juan Capistrano late yesterday, according to reports.

The persons injured were in one machine. The car turned over when the driver attempted to pass another machine. In the car were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Tobinsky, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Klein and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Kaufman, all of 1685 West Fifty-Second street, Los Angeles.

Woman's Back Broken

Mrs. Tobinsky suffered a fractured back and was removed to a Los Angeles hospital. Others in the party received first aid treatment in San Juan Capistrano and then were taken to their homes.

No report of the accident has been filed with authorities here, it was learned.

John W. Kraft, 2102 1-2 North Broadway, Los Angeles, peanut vendor, working near the Santa Ana airport, was severely injured at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he was run down by an automobile said to have been driven by H. J. Herman, Monolith, Calif.

The accident occurred, according to a report filed in the offices of the state traffic department, when Kraft, dated in front of the car while selling his wares in the highway.

V. Barnhill and other state officers rushed the injured man to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where he was given medical treatment, after which he was removed to Los Angeles. No arrest was made.

Miss Nita Adkinson, Los Angeles, was badly cut and bruised at 5:15 a. m., Sunday, when the machine in which she was riding crashed into a ditch at the intersection of the Newport road and South Main street, throwing her against the windshield, ac-ording to a report filed with Santa Ana police.

Miss Adkinson was riding with K. C. Canterbury, 25, 1802 West Twenty-second street. Canterbury reported the accident.

Car's Wheels Locked
According to Canterbury, the wheels of his car suddenly locked and he lost control of the machine. It plunged into a ditch but did not overturn.

Miss Adkinson was brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where she was given first aid treatment, and then removed to her home. No one else in the machine was reported injured.

W. Beeler, 514 East Pine street, Santa Ana, was severely cut and bruised when the machine he was driving overturned at First and Main streets at 1:45 a. m., yesterday, after it had collided with a car driven by Miss Billie Parks, 21, 525 North Pine street, Orange, according to a report filed at the police station by Miss Parks.

Beeler was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital for medical treatment and later removed to his home.

Merle Delair, young son of H. E. Delair, Long Beach, was run down by an automobile driven by Albert Gonzales, 130 Elm avenue, Saturday afternoon at Anaheim Landing, according to a report filed with the sheriff yesterday by Gonzales.

Child Taken to Hospital
The child was taken to the Seaside hospital, Long Beach, by Gonzales and is not thought to have been fatally injured.

Gonzales reported that the child ran out in front of his machine and was struck before he could apply his brakes.

A father and his daughter were injured yesterday on the Santa Ana Canyon road when their machine overturned after having been struck by an automobile occupied by several Mexicans, a report at the sheriff's office revealed.

They were taken to the Orange County hospital, where it was said their injuries were not of a serious nature.

Louis Huver, 412 East 109th street, Los Angeles, the father, suffered a fractured elbow and the daughter, Marion Huver, 3 1/2 years of age, sustained severe cuts and bruises about the head.

They will be removed from the hospital to their homes today, it was said. No arrests were made.

Miss Juanita Schneider, 17 Los Angeles, was badly burned on the right hand when a sky rocket, which she was lighting, exploded. The accident occurred on the sands at Seal Beach. She was taken to her home.

Boy Loses Teeth
A 10-year-old boy, whose name was not learned, lost several teeth and was badly burned about the mouth and face at Seal Beach yesterday, when a firecracker exploded while he held it in his teeth.

The boy, who was at the beach with his parents, was rushed to a doctor in Long Beach after having been given first aid treatment in a Seal Beach drug store.

Nine persons were treated in the Santa Ana Valley hospital over the three-day holiday for injuries received in automobile accidents not reported to authorities, a check of the hospital revealed today. None of those injured was seriously hurt, and, after receiving first aid treatment, all were removed to their homes.

Leland Montgomery, 13, 1035-A West Twenty-first street, Los Angeles, brought to hospital Sunday night with lacerated hand.

Pay Covington, 102 East Walnut street, Whittier, brought to hospital at 2 o'clock Sunday morning; cuts and bruises.

Ralph Starry, 8550 Menlo avenue, Los Angeles, brought to hospital at noon Sunday; cuts and bruises.

Edward Barrett, 809 New York street, Los Angeles, brought to hospital at 5 p. m., Saturday; cuts and bruises.

Two Girls Injured
Gladys Puckett and Katherine Graham, 141 South Newton avenue, Whittier, brought to hospital at 2 a. m., Sunday; cuts and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fraseur, 3779 3-4 Menlo avenue, Los Angeles, treated Sunday afternoon in hospital for cuts and bruises.

Antone Boyson, 3031 Potomac street, Los Angeles, and Jack Tiller, 4405 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, treated Sunday night for lacerations about heads.

Animal College Closed Because Horse Days Over

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The passing of the horse has caused the closing of the United States College of Veterinary Surgeons here.

The last commencement of the college, which was founded 35 years ago, was held Wednesday night with the graduation of four students.

At the exercises President C. Zabel Robinson announced the shutting down of the college.

Javanese Prince's Six Children Wed

SURAKARTA, Java, July 5.—Five princesses and one prince—all children of the sushunan of Surakarta, an immensely wealthy Javanese prince of ancient lineage, were married at a joint ceremony with Mohammedan rites, before an intimate court circle.

The princesses were wedded to members of the sushunan's house and the prince married the daughter of a neighboring potentate.

Scenes of oriental splendor marked the ceremonies. The famous Javanese wedding dances in colorful costumes, glittering with jewels, to the music of weird native instruments, exceeded anything hitherto seen in the island of Java.

The sushunan, who maintains with pomp and magnificence a show of local power, under Dutch suzerainty, recently suffered a painful bereavement—his favorite cat died. It was buried with a ceremonial no cat in Java ever had before. Laid in a costly casket, its remains were borne to the burial place by 24 elaborately accoutered warriors and followed by an escort of lancers on horseback.

Navy Chief Says Japan Needs Ships

TOKIO, July 5.—Admiral Keisuke Okada, minister of the navy, declared in a statement regarding naval reduction that it is absolutely necessary for Japan to keep as many auxiliary vessels as are needed for the security of commerce in time of peace and war, because Japan is dependent upon foreign countries for raw materials.

The auxiliaries, of which 11 will be completed by the end of 1928, and the replacement of auxiliaries approved during the last session of the diet, represent the minimum requirements of the country, the minister said.

Germany Wants Valley Returned

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 5.—Early return of the Sarre valley to Germany, without awaiting the plebiscite set for 1932, is demanded in a memorial handed to Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany by a delegation representing political groups in the district.

The memorial asks the League of Nations council to take the initiative in restoring the valley to Germany and "thus advance the economic interests of the Sarre, which suffer from the existing political status."

London Births Are Below Deaths

LONDON, July 5.—There was a great slump in births in Britain in the first three months of this year. There were 167,126 births and 168,770 deaths, the excess of the latter being attributed to the influenza epidemic.

This is only the third time in a century that, in the first quarter of a year, deaths have exceeded births.

Smiles Lead To Change In Name

NEW YORK, July 5.—"Your honor, everybody calls me 'Smiles,'" said Herbert Smiles to Justice Mitchell May in the Queens supreme court.

And everybody, even the judge, smiled as the request was granted that his name be changed to Herbert Smiles.

Well—My doctor now tells me that if I don't take a vacation on my own hook he will see to it that I'll have a nice young lady sitting watching me do it. In either case, one of these days I'll be where the woodbine twines and the grasshopper lingers not.

MANY INJURED IN FIREWORKS, EXPLOSION.

CHICAGO, July 5.—What had been heralded as Chicago's "safest Fourth" ended tragically when a defective skyrocket plunged into a pile of fireworks at a supervised exhibition outside the city limits, setting fire to the entire stock and causing panic among 1000 spectators.

Twenty-five persons, many of them small children, were burned by the explosion or trampled in the rush for shelter. More than a dozen were taken to hospitals.

Police reported one death and 60 injured by fireworks explosions and stray bullets from the guns of celebrators in Chicago.

Six automobile fatalities were reported in the Chicago district yesterday and many were hurt.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
Have you observed that the Master always spoke of the death of the sinner as sleep?
That which has ceased to be needed by the soul is laid aside as in sleep. The that it disintegrates is of small moment.
The great alive-ness of the soul is undiminished, rather than diminished, when it is freed from the trammels of the flesh.
It goes on with its love undiminished, its hopes undiminished, its aspirations unimpaired.
Think of your dear one as resting in vibrant life.

SANTA ANA OBSERVES FOURTH WITH PATRIOTIC PARADE AND CELEBRATION AT BIRCH PARK

Santa Ana awoke yesterday morning, July 4, with a bang and a boom, as scores of tired business men and their assistants, who catered to tens of thousands of motorists who went through or visited the city during the double holiday, expressed themselves.

With the air meet as an added attraction to the program of festivities arranged for the day by patriotic organizations, all records for holiday crowds were shattered.
It was the opinion of traffic experts catering to motor travel that more persons went through Santa Ana, Saturday, Sunday and Monday than ever before in any three-day period.

In the city proper, the nation's 152nd year of independence was ushered in with a well balanced program, staged by the Santa Ana camp of the United Spanish War Veterans, assisted by the G. A. R. and the members of the American Legion. Following a veterans' parade, moving through the center section of the city, and preceded by drum corps and massed colors of the various veteran organizations in the city, there was a patriotic program in Birch park.
An outstanding feature of the parade was the section made up of Spanish-American war veterans, who turned out in the fine-honored uniforms of the stirring days of '98 campaign hat, blueshirt and khaki. An excellent showing was made by the various troops of the Orange county council of Boy Scouts.

Exercises at Park
The exercises at the park, attended by thousands of citizens and visitors, were in charge of M.
C. Cooper and Frank Rowe, of the United Spanish war veterans. A concert by the Santa Ana municipal band preceded the speakers on the program. Colonel M. C. Wellington, speaking for the American Legion, stressed the imperative necessity for the average citizen to take a more active interest in all government affairs. Unless the citizens make the business of government their own business, and satisfy themselves that the right kind of men and women are put in office, "government of, by and for the people" will become a phrase, he declared. He further urged that citizens after having informed themselves as to the merits of various issues and the qualifications of candidates, discharge their duties at the polls.

An eloquent address on the American constitution was delivered by Freeman Bloodgood, Santa Ana realtor, who, after tracing its history, emphasized that since its adoption it has constituted the bulwark of American democracy and institutions. He made a particular point of the fact that it guarantees certain rights of the individual citizen which cannot be abrogated or curtailed by any government agency.

The issues of the Civil war, and their effect upon the growth and prosperity of the American commonwealth, were told by Judge
E. T. Langley, speaking for the Civil war veterans.

Enormous Crowds
Boulevards leading through Santa Ana were crowded to capacity, and it was claimed that more than 100,000 machines passed over the roads to San Diego, Laguna Beach, Capistrano, Newport Beach, B. Alboa, Huntington Beach, and other points.

The march on San Diego, began early Saturday. Before dark of that day, the main highway running through Fullerton, Anaheim and Santa Ana to Capistrano was a veritable caravan of southbound machines. These cars ranged from expensive limousines to flivvers.
Light trucks and delivery wagons had also been requisitioned to furnish transportation to those who could not obtain anything better.
They were loaded with men, women and children, and the family pets, who sought San Diego or other points as a haven from the swept cities of the inland country.
Santa Ana is accustomed to handling holiday crowds bound for San Diego or nearby beaches.
Realizing this, plans were laid by the local hotel men, restaurant keepers, operators of garages and service stations, to accommodate the holiday travelers. But for the fact that the newly constructed coast highway between Long Beach and San Juan Capistrano diverted a considerable portion of the southbound travel, some difficulty might have been experienced in handling the situation.

Hotels Filled
The city's leading hotels began filling up Saturday night with tired motorists who found the traffic a little too much for their nerves. Garages were parked with visiting cars and many had to be parked in the street. Eating places did a land office business, feeding an endless stream of people as soon as they could be served.

In keeping with the general run of things, was the volume of business handled by the stage line.
The Pickwick stage line, operating between Los Angeles and Santa Ana, was forced to borrow equipment from several sight-seeing lines. The Motor Transit broke all records on its Long Beach and Newport Beach lines. More than 3000 passengers went through the Santa Ana stage depot bound for San Diego and more than 1000 passengers were handled on each of the Long Beach and the Newport Beach line during the holiday period.

All records for beach crowds were shattered Sunday and yesterday at Newport Beach, Balboa, Laguna Beach and Capistrano Beach, thus giving support to the belief that the people of Los Angeles are coming more and more to Orange county resorts than to their own beaches.

GAS IN SAFE WALLS
BERLIN, July 5.—Experimenters
now believe that in the future gas will be used as a protection for bank vaults. A German inventor has constructed a safe which will release the most deadly of poison gases when a drill penetrates its sides. The device is claimed to be perfectly safe for everyone but villains.

ORANGE COUNTY BEACH CITIES OVER CROWDED

NEWPORT BEACH, July 5.—
Approximately 50,000 persons thronged the beaches and streets of Newport Beach and Balboa over the holidays starting on Saturday morning according to conservative estimates of restauran-ters, bathhouse proprietors, and owners of cottages and rooms which were rented.

The crowds began arriving late Friday evening. "Red" W. J. Trux, proprietor of the municipal camp ground, reports that his capacity of 550 cars was all taken by Saturday noon, necessitating the turning away of some 1000 cars. Many campers parked their cars in the blind street adjoining the camp grounds and pitched their tents in the territory along the beach near the camp ground.

By Saturday evening, a room, cottage or tent could not be rented in the entire city. Small paper board cottages having only one room were bringing as high as $25 per day. The rents were gladly paid.

The visitors amused themselves with bathing, beach sports, dancing and boating. A fire works display last night and visits to the two destroyers anchored off Balboa beach entertained a large crowd of the pleasure seekers.

Flags hung over the principal streets of the city by the city street department lent a gala air to the day.

Eight life guards patrolled the beach Saturday, Sunday and yesterday and assisted materially in reducing the hazard of drowning among the thousands of bathers along the beaches. Captained by Antar Dargatz, veteran life guard and marine observer, the crew kept watch along the entire water front during the three days in which the crowds exceeded those of any other holiday so far this year.

The eight on duty were: Bob Allen, Nick Samoff, Gordon Thomas, William Gillette, Jack McCellen, James Van Trees, John Leber-man and Bill Dennis.

Mrs. W. Johnston, of Huntington Beach, was presented a cup for having the best decorated automobile in the parade.

A crew of 10 Standard oil workers entered by the Standard Oil company triumphed over all competitors in the tug of war to win the cup in that event. Their opponents in the final pull were the California Petroleum company.

Attracting much attention was the dance contests staged during the intermission of the municipal band concert in the afternoon.
Dances of many kinds were performed by several contestants for the cup. Miss Helen Young, Huntington Beach, triumphed when she convinced the judges of her superior torpshorean arts with a Spanish solo dance.

Automobile contests staged on the beach during the afternoon returned William Truman, of Huntington Beach, as winner in the fast race in low gear, while Glenn Groover captured the laurels for slow race in high gear.

Athletic events on the beach for young and old alike drew a large entry list and the competition for the cups in the various events was keen. In the boys' scramble shoe race, Harvey Wright, Huntington Beach school boy, managed to extricate his shoes from the pile and put them on ahead of his competitors. In a race for girls under 16 years, Marjorie King, of Anaheim, won out. Alvin Koenig proved to be the fleetest in a similar race for boys under 16 years.

Elderly people entered the races for men and women over 40 years.
Tom Talbert, former supervisor, led the field to the finish mark in his race, while Frances Murphy, of Huntington Beach, won out over a large field of women contestants.

HUNTINGTON BEACH ENTERTAINS MANY
HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 5.—
Five thousand individuals participated in the various events staged by the chamber of commerce and the city of Huntington Beach for the entertainment of the immense holiday throngs at the beach city yesterday according to estimates of those in charge of the events.

The largest number of entrants in any one event was recorded in the baby parade, presided over by Mrs. Mary J. Wiener. Those who won cups were: Daisy May Skeley of Huntington Beach, grand prize;
De Gloria Clement, eight months old, of Long Beach, first prize for girls under one year; Mary Jane Johnston, Huntington Beach, 23 months, first prize for girls under two years.

Juan Dillon, of Huntington Beach, eight and one-half months, first prize for boys under one year;
John McCormack, of Huntington Beach, 18 months, first prize for boys under two years.

The California Petroleum Oil company's entrant in the parade for anything and everything on wheels was awarded the cup for being the best decorated. The float depicted an oil well on a huge truck. The American Legion's
"Bucking Ford," was given the cup for the most unusual entrant in the parade. The Boy Scouts were awarded first prize for their "covered wagon" entry, and D. O.
Stewart was given first prize for decorated automobiles.

Weight entered into the matter
when men weighing over 190 pounds made a try for racing laurels. All were outclassed by D. W.
Carter, of Huntington Beach. In the women's division the weight limit was set at 160 pounds. Barbara La Salvia, of Los Angeles, won.

The final competitive event of the day, a baseball game between the California Petroleum Oil company and the city of Olive resulted in a five to three win for the oil company's team.

Fireworks lit the sky above the surf for two hours in the late evening, attracting a record throng to the vantage spots along the bluff.
The entire program was staged under the supervision of John Barlow, entertainment chairman of the chamber of commerce and his committee of 15. The members of the committee arranged the various events, secured entries and acted as judges.

CAR PLUNGES OVER

Mrs. William Whittaker of Los Angeles is in the Laguna Beach hospital today suffering from a broken ankle, a severe gash under her chin and bad body bruises following her plunging experience yesterday of being plunged nearly 300 feet down a steep bank toward the ocean, only to be saved at the breaker line by the heroic work of James Hoopes of Belvedere Gardens.

Mrs. Whittaker was one of a party of five who occupied an automobile on the coast highway about 5 o'clock. The car had developed engine trouble. All had gotten out but Mrs. Whittaker, when the machine backed across the highway and started on its mad plunge toward the boiling surf.

Hoopes rushed across the highway and leaped on the running board of the moving car. He guided the car to a level place just on the edge of the breaker line.

12-VEAR-OLD LAD SAVES CRIPPLE BOY
NEWPORT BEACH, July 5.—
Pat Moore, 12-year-old son of Captain C. W. Sheffield, proved his right to a hero medal yesterday.
In the opinion of harbor officials, when he braved a windy and dangerous channel to rescue a cripple, whose name was not learned, from possible drowning.

According to the story being related today, young Moore observed the plight of the man in the small boat, who had lost his oars and was fast drifting on the rocks at the harbor's mouth before a spanking breeze and plunged into the broiling surf to swim to his aid.

The small boat had shipped considerable water and was in danger of sinking or being dashed to pieces on the rocks.

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF LAGUNA
LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—Officials of the city of Laguna Beach are complimenting themselves and their visitors of the Independence Day holidays on the fact that although no restrictions were imposed on celebrants with firecrackers, not an injury or a fire of any description was recorded during the holidays.

This is coupled with the fact that the largest crowd in the history of the city was believed to have made use of the beach and the hills in the community's limits. According to estimates of the crowd made by cafe owners and others having an opportunity to make observations, Laguna Beach entertained 60,000 visitors. Cars passed over the newly completed coast highway at the rate of one every 50 seconds during the entire day yesterday, tabulations indicated.

The visitors brought their own amusements with them or participated in the various dances during the evening provided by the merchants of the city served to finish off the day.

FORD EXPECTS TO BUILD BIG PLANE

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—William B. Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford Motor company, announced that the company hopes in the near future to bring out an airplane twice as large as the present three engine, all-metal, transport monoplane.

Mayo made his announcement before 600 business leaders gathered to hear Col. H. H. Blee of the United States department of commerce, who is touring the country to arouse interest in the support of commercial aviation generally and the air mail particularly.

Air mail is to pass, August 1, into private hands after nine years of government experimentation and operation costing $15,000,000.

"We, in the Ford company, have been called upon recently to deny many statements of our proposed plans," declared Mayo. "We aren't going to build a 100-passenger ship, at least not for some time. Nor are we going to build a plane especially for a trans-pacific flight."

"But we are going to take the next step in bigger machines. Our new plane will seat 20."

Mayo also announced that he and William B. Stout, general manager of the Ford airplane division are conferring today with Los Angeles and San Francisco business men who are here to establish an air passenger service between the two cities, using Ford machines.

Extravagance Is Declared Trait Of U. S. Citizens

NORTHFIELD, Minn., July 5.—Characterizing extravagance as a marked trait of American national life, Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific Railway company, urged Carlton college graduates here to help curb an unsound spending tendency.

"One reason that taxes are so high is that people don't want to deny themselves anything," he declared. "They want the best of everything, are impatient to spend money right away regardless of the necessity, and are indifferent to the needs of their neighbors. Trained minds are needed in dealing with this problem, and in giving sound judgment and advice so that the people's money may be spent wisely, not foolishly and extravagantly."

U. S. Will Open Havana Air Mail Bids On July 16

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Preparing for the first extension of the American air mail service to a foreign nation, bids will be opened at the post office department July 16 for a contract route between Key West, Fla., and Havana, Cuba.

Eventually it is hoped to make the proposed route a part of continuous air mail service between New York and Havana. The leg between New York and Atlanta will be opened this morning, connecting with the line already established between Atlanta and Miami.

$50,000 Fund To Aid In Fire Work

BOSTON, July 5.—The National Fire Protective association has undertaken to raise $50,000 in New England, which will be spent in showing New England communities what they can do to reduce their fire losses.

It is the plan of the national association to send an engineer into any New England community that requests it, without charge, to make a survey of fire hazards and to help the community to organize for the purpose of lessening them.

Progress along this line already has been made in New England cities where engineers have directed prevention work. In three years Chelsea's per capita loss dropped from $10.61 to $4.45; that of Concord, N. H., from $11.14 to $4.90, and similar reductions have been obtained in Springfield and in Providence, R. I.

Denver Students To Study Animals

DENVER, July 5.—A new elementary science course in Denver schools, to be inaugurated next September, may result in many pets of the animal kingdom being brought to the school room by youthful pupils for animal studies. The course is part of a plan to "humanize education," according to directors of curricula. The new course, it is explained, is motivated by a desire to have elementary pupils develop a humane feeling toward animals and to learn of the adaptation of every living thing.

Snay, who pleaded guilty to involuntary homicide; the other was his brother, Deputy Sheriff Fred Snay, taking him to serve a three-to-five-year term. The case was the outgrowth of an automobile crash in which Miss Virginia Hickson, 16-year-old school girl, was killed.

MORE ACCUSATIONS FILED AGAINST COUNTY JAILERS BY FORMER INMATES HERE

Mrs. Bertha Pharis, as she was known to local authorities, is the latest accuser of jail officials in connection with the recently launched campaign of charges, published in Los Angeles, against the administration of the Orange county jail. Mrs. Pharis makes her charges under the name of Mrs. Floyd Hatch.

Mrs. Pharis, who was sentenced in superior court here to serve two years for one of the most brutal crimes ever brought to the attention of local authorities, is alleged to have signed an affidavit published today, in which she confirmed statements that Vern C. Pavey, federal prisoner who escaped from the local jail, had various liberties and privileges not accorded other prisoners. The affidavit also stated that another federal prisoner who was made a trustee after Pavey escaped, had many privileges; that he went riding in a jailer's car, had women visitors and liquor, gave a banquet to other trustees when he left, and presented the four jailers with four gold badges.

Mrs. Pharis' affidavit stated further that she had seen two federal prisoners take a five-gallon can of alcohol from the jail store room. She had informed the head matron, she said, but the matron wouldn't believe her and nothing was done about it.

Jailers today said that "Mrs. Floyd Hatch" was undoubtedly Mrs. Pharis. She was first known as Mrs. Floyd Hatch when arrested while living with Floyd Hatch and posing as his wife, but it was later discovered that she was not his wife and that her name was Bertha Pharis.

The couple, Hatch and Mrs. Pharis, were arrested in a house on Edinger street after the attention of county officials had been called to the treatment of Hatch's two children, a little boy and girl. According to evidence presented at the trial, the children were found by the authorities to be in a starved and emaciated condition, in bed, too weak to stand, and covered by welts and bruises. It was shown at the trial that Hatch had permitted Mrs. Pharis to inflict this treatment upon his children. Superior Judge Drumm sentenced Hatch to 18 months in jail, while Mrs. Pharis received a sentence of two years. Because Hatch violated various jail rules, while Mrs. Pharis proved a better behaved prisoner, they completed their terms at about the same time.

Another Charge
Yesterday, an affidavit purporting to be signed by L. Parks, attache of a motion picture concern, was made public. It recited alleged rough treatment of Parks by Orange county officers and jailers after Parks had been arrested on a charge of being drunk at Laguna Beach. Parks claimed that the deputy sheriffs who arrested him at a dance in Laguna Beach, beat him, and that he was brutally handled later, in the county jail. He claimed that, on his arrival at the jail, a physician examined him and said he was not drunk. When Parks refused to pay a $3 fee to the physician, he was knocked down by a jailer, he said. His hands were seriously lacerated, but he was refused medical care, he claimed.

Jail records show that Parks was in jail one day, before being released on bail. Local persons who saw him immediately after he emerged from jail said today that they did not notice any marks upon him or his hands. The jailers denied his charges. Parks was obviously drunk when he reached the jail, they said, but he demanded to be examined by a physician. The jailer on duty told him that there could be no question that he was drunk and that if a physician was called, Parks would have to pay the $3 fee. Parks agreed, it was said. When the physician pronounced him drunk, they said, Parks uttered an oath and refused to pay the $3 fee, which the county was forced to pay.

New Light Ray For Milk Found

CHICAGO, July 5.—A new light ray that penetrates large quantities of milk is being investigated by laboratory experts of the Chicago department of health, in an effort to find a new and quicker method of sterilization.

According to experiments, milk which had been exposed to the lightning like flashes of the light for 30 seconds showed a much smaller bacteria test than untreated milk.

Irradiation of milk by the ultra violet ray is a poor method, it was said, because of the length of time the short rays penetrating the fluid very slowly.

BANDIT GETS CASH SAXOPHONE, PANTS

CHICAGO, July 5.—John Kennedy, who plays in an orchestra, was walking home when a man passing in an automobile offered him a ride.

John accompanied with thanks. Two blocks later the stranger produced a pistol.

"Money," he said tersely. John gave him a dollar.

"More," demanded the stranger. "All," said John.

"Sax," said the stranger, and John surrendered his saxophone.

"Pants," said the stranger. John demurred, but finally took them off and handed them over.

"Out," said the man with the gun, and John alighted.

"Barrel," said John half an hour later at the police station.

"None," said the sergeant. They compromised on a pair of spare overalls borrowed from the janitor.

It's Easy to Tell a Modern Strap Watch

Because it has style, not only in shape and design, but in quality of materials, as well. First favored by men in the service, the strap watch came into wide use in cases of base metal, aluminum, nickel, etc.

What a contrast is the modern Green Quadrant in white or green gold. Smart, durable, dependable, essentially masculine in design.

Family Observance of Patriotic Holiday Offers Gaiety

One of the liveliest and most delightful celebrations of the patriotic holiday with its long week-end, was that staged by the Plavan family, who started the festivities Friday night when Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Plavan, 2685 North Main street, entertained at dinner.

To the artistic fittings of the home, were added quantities of gladioli, tones of pink and yellow being chosen. The decorations were extremely effective, and in no place more so than the table where the guests were gathered to enjoy an elaborate course dinner.

Guests Complimented
The hospitality had a three-fold purpose, to compliment Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan and their daughters, the Misses Edith and Wilma Plavan who will spend the summer in Alaska; to welcome to the family circle, the bride of Leland Plavan, formerly Miss Blanche Carey of Glendale, and to celebrate the Glorious Fourth.

Place cards at the dinner were written for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Plavan, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan, the Misses Edith and Wilma Plavan, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Plavan, Mrs. Loren Mead, Walter Robbins of Whittier, and Master Donald Mead, Mrs. Loren Mead's small son, and Flo-Flo Plavan, dainty wee daughter of the hosts.

The four travelers complimented were each presented with a pretty gift from the hosts, for use on their vacation wanderings, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Plavan were also remembered with a handsome gift for the home they will establish.

In the evening, several friends were asked to join the family group for an informal session of bridge. They included Miss Fay Murhead, a college friend of the Misses Edith and Wilma Plavan at Oregon Agricultural college; Miss Frances Battey, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tubach, F. Bathegate of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Bradford of Placentia.

Theater Party
On the following day, (Saturday) Mrs. U. H. Plavan, the Misses Edith and Wilma Plavan, Mrs. Loren Mead, Miss Frances Battey, Miss Murhead and Mrs. Harold Swift of Talbert, motored to Los Angeles for a theater party at the Orpheum, preceding it with a merry luncheon at the Italian Village.

Informal Tea
On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Mead and the Misses Plavan entertained informally at the Plavan ranch home southwest of the city, complimenting their mother, Mrs. Plavan sr. Many friends called to enjoy the friendly atmosphere of the home.

The celebration came to a conclusion last night with a family gathering at the ranch home, where young and old delighted in the beautiful fireworks display presented by U. H. Plavan on the wide lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan and the Misses Edith and Wilma left today by automobile for a leisurely trip north to Seattle. They will devote the entire month to the journey, stopping wherever fancy may dictate, planning to arrive in Seattle only in time to sail on July 23 for Alaska where they will spend the month of August. They will return to Santa Ana in time for the two daughters to assume their duties as physical training teachers in the two junior high schools of the city.

Miss Edith at Julia Lathrop and Miss Wilma at Frances Willard. Mrs. Loren Mead and small Donald will sail about the last of August to rejoin Mr. Mead in China, concluding a visit of several months here with their relatives.

Park Party Honors Wedding Anniversary

In celebrating their fifth wedding anniversary late last week, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miodok of 413 East Walnut street, planned a merry evening for their friends, motoring to a grove county park for an al fresco dinner. Everyone enjoyed the picnic dinner under the towering trees of the park, and also the manifold park attractions which included informal chat and dancing for the older folk, and the playground joys for the children.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Grover Murphy and daughter Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoyt and son Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Sharp and son Jimmie; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rimmel and children, Luther, Ray, Lona and Lula Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Neff Morrison and son Gene; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hagthorn and son Junior; Mrs. Hattie Miodok and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miodok and their little daughter Gloria.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Unitarian church social to be given Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be held at the home of Mrs. Kate Bradford, 624 French street.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church will hold its regular meeting Wednesday at the cottage of Mrs. P. A. Robinson on Twenty-eighth street, Newport Beach. There will be a short meeting of the executive committee followed by an interesting program of "Echoes From the Convention" at Whittier. Each one attending is asked to bring sandwiches, a covered dish, and table service, also to notify Mrs. W. B. Snow or Mrs. W. F. Kestinger if there is room in a car for someone.

St. Joseph's Altar society will meet Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in Knights of Columbus hall.

Eastern Nuptials Are Announced Here by Bride's Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitschner of 1423 North Garnsey street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Doris Elizabeth Pitschner, to Louis Stuart Lankton, of Bridgeport, Conn., an event of Saturday, July 2.

The ceremony took place that afternoon at 4 o'clock, in Bridgeport, in the rectory of St. John's Episcopal church. Miss Pitschner was attired in white chiffon worn with a charming white picture hat and carried a great cluster of pink and white roses combined with forget-me-nots.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party drove to Redding, Conn., where a private dining-room had been reserved at "The Spinning Wheel" for the wedding supper. There the floral appointments repeated the colors of the bride's bouquet, using the same lovely combination of flowers, enhanced by tall pink tapers in old brass candlesticks.

The bride received her high school education in Dubuque, Iowa, where she was president of her class. After the family came to Southern California, she attended University of California at Los Angeles, going thence to Columbia university, New York City, where she graduated with the class of 1926 of Barnard college. For the past year, she has been employed with R. H. Macy and Company in New York City.

The betrothal period of Miss Pitschner and Mr. Lankton, was made delightful by many courtesies extended the bride-elect. These included a lingerie shower at the home of Mrs. G. W. Chadwick, Forest Hills, Long Island, and a linen shower given by Miss Margaret Reinisch, New York City.

Mr. Lankton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Lankton of Montclair, New Jersey, and is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the class of 1924. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, the American Association of Mechanical Engineers, and a resident member of the University club of Bridgeport. He is in the employ of the American Chain company at Bridgeport.

The young people are now spending their honeymoon at Mt. Washington in the White Mountains, and will go from there to Quebec before returning to Bridgeport where they will be established at 590 Brewster street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitschner are anticipating a visit from them at not too remote a date, when they will have the pleasure of showing the beauties of Orange county to their new son-in-law, and introducing the young people to their hosts of friends.

Santa Ana Wedding Crowns Idaho Romance

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Coon, 807 Orange avenue, was the scene of a beautifully appointed wedding Saturday afternoon, July 3, when their nephew, Leland Stanford Coon, and Miss Winifred Gladys Bossen of Fayette, Idaho, were united in marriage.

Great clusters of the choicest roses, colorful dahlias, hydrangeas and other flowers of the mid-summer, were used to adorn the home, and to form a beautiful background for the ceremony which took place at 3 o'clock. Shades were drawn and soft lights added to the beauty of the scene.

Miss Bossen wore a gown of apricot flat crepe embroidered in deeper tones, and carried a great cluster of white roses drenched with sweet peas. A spray of orange blossoms was nestled in her hair. The ceremony was read very impressively by the Rev. Charles F. Seitter, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

After the assembled guests had extended their congratulations and good wishes to Mr. Coon and his bride, a three-course wedding dinner was served, with dining-room and table decorations all sounding a charming color note of pink and lavender.

The bride, whose parents reside in Fayette, is a graduate of Payette high school and the State Normal college of Lewistown, Mont., achieving high scholastic standing and honors in each school. Since completing her normal school course she has taught in the Payette schools, where her personal charm and educational attainments have given her prominent place in social circles.

Mr. Coon comes from a highly respected family of Fruitland, Idaho, and the romance of the young people began in school days. He is identified with the Joe Herschler Grocery company in the Grand Central market where his courtesy has won him many friends.

The young people are honeymooning at Catalina, and upon their return will go to housekeeping here where their home will be adorned with the many handsome wedding gifts showered on them. Those present to witness their wedding ceremony were Mrs. G. N. Coon and daughter, Maurine, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. B. Kutch, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kutch and daughter Honore, and Mrs. Belle C. Rugg, of Walnut Park, all relatives of the groom, and Mr. Joe Herschler and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Watkins, of Santa Ana.

YOUTHFUL SIMPLICITY SOUGHT FOR SMALL CHILDREN OF RICH

BY BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK.—Balmey weather and society blossoming out in all the gorgeous beauty of summer togs and big hats made the opening of the annual Tuxedo Horse Show a day of greater pleasure than usual. Of course those hurrying peaceful hills had a fresh greenness all their own that contributed much.

Admire as I might the costumes of the grown-ups, I got my greatest delight in watching the little tots accompanying their parents from paddock to ringside and back again.

It is a real satisfaction, in this day of overdressing children and in other ways encouraging artificiality in them, to note how simply the kids at Tuxedo were costumed.

For while Mammias stinked by in silks and crepes and sportive ensembles, little girls and boys were the personification of youthful simplicity in fresh linens, voiles, dimities and quaint grandmother chintzes.

Washable frocks, all I enjoyed that fact too. For children will be children and get grimy and there's a certain relish in knowing that their clothes can be boiled if necessary to get them immaculate again.

I noted that the delightful French custom of dressing alike all the children of a family still persists.

Little Catherine and Marion Colt, sunny haired youngsters, passed with their father, S. S. Colt, looking their most charming young selves in linen frocks of the new, pale Yosemite green, made identically the same way. One-piece frocks they were, over matching bloomers. They were smocked in at the neck and had pockets embroidered in gay woolens in the form of spring flowers in a little basket. The motif was repeated on the short sleeves.

Their hats took a darker shade of green and were simple, childishly smart Milans with nothing but a grosgrain ribbon banding to trim them. I noted everywhere that the planer the hat, the smarter it is for youngsters.

Little Bruce Fellowes Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fellowes Gordon, had a cute little English suit of dark blue linen shorts hitched onto a white dimitie blouse. His hat was black straw and his socks a sportive variety of stripes in black, red, blue and yellow.

His older brother, Ian, wore a suit similarly made but over it he had a yellow slicker, evidently believing that the rain would come again. He was so busy leading his pet Shetland pony which he entered in the pony class that he did not really know whether it was raining or sunny.

Washable riding togs for children seem the vogue this season, too. I noted last week in Washington that little Sylvia Speecher, youngest daughter of the Hungarian Minister, looked like a miniature fashion plate on her "Christopher Robin" wearing a smart linen coat, a white silk shirt with green stripes, and a green and white striped tie and matching kerchief.

Her little semi-jockey cap had a grosgrain ribbon of green around it which tied in a feminine looking bow that went well with her golden curls and her intriguing sweet smile.

For parties, the children of smart New York women stick to fine handmade baptistes and imported prints rather than use chiffons, satins, crepes and so on. This seems most appropriate, really. For can anything be sweeter or more youthful in its freshness than a simple orandy, or a hand-made French voile with appliqued flowers in colors?

Quiet Wedding Will Surprise Friends

Miss Marjorie Richards of Orange and Mannis Dick of this city, were married Wednesday, June 29, at 7 o'clock, by the Rev. Charles F. Seitter, pastor of the First Methodist church, Santa Ana. The marriage was a surprise to everyone except the bride's sister.

Mr. Dick is a foreman at the Tustin jacking house, while Miss Richards will be remembered for winning the packing contest recently held at the Valencia Orange show in Anaheim. The couple will return Wednesday from the Yosemite where they are spending their honeymoon.

Flood Sufferers Will Benefit by Party At Rose Arbor

Mississippi flood sufferers will benefit by a card party which members of the Business and Professional Women's club are planning for Monday night, July 11, at the Rose Arbor tea room on North Main street.

Mrs. Laura Murray, president of the club, named Miss Helen Gallagher as chairman of the July social committee which will have all details of the party in charge. Mrs. E. S. Chamberlain, proprietor of the tea room, has placed the Rose Arbor and its equipment and staff at the disposal of the Business Women, and the supper menu to be served, will be largely donated, so that a very nice sum is expected, all of which will be sent for the relief of the sufferers.

Bridge will be the principal game to be played, although tables will be in readiness for any game which patrons may wish. Beautiful prizes have been selected for the winners. Playing will begin at 8 o'clock. An elaborate hot supper will be served at the close of the series.

Miss Elaine Wharton has been named to receive reservations, and anyone not approached by a member of the club, yet who would like to reserve a place or a table, may do so by telephoning her at the city water office, telephone 9. The dollar asked for a ticket, entitles that guest to supper privileges also, and exactly 100 cents of it, will go to the flood sufferers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill Now Honeymooning In the North

A wedding of Saturday, July 2, which will interest a host of friends, was that of Miss Elva Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chapman, 102 Bush street, and Ray Hill of 626 South Parton street, which took place that evening at 8 o'clock.

The wedding was planned as a very quiet affair, the young people, accompanied by Miss Bertha Moses and Paul Brown, going to the home of the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, 619 Bush street, where the ceremony was held. Miss Chapman wore a smart little sports frock in pink with all dress accessories to harmonize.

After a motor honeymoon in the north, Mr. Hill and his bride will return to Santa Ana and make their home at 220 North Garnsey street and he will resume his place as salesman with one of the oil companies.

USES ST RANGE METEOR TO GET HIS PAT CHECK

When M. Lopez endeavored to secure his pay check from his former landlady, Mrs. Isabel Ramon, he pursued a course which landed him in the Fullerton jail, records revealed today.

Lopez, according to police, crawled through a window of the Ramon home and extracted his check from Mrs. Ramon's pillow. Mrs. Ramon screamed and Lopez retreated hastily, finally hiding in a vacant house nearby. Mrs. Ramon's screams resulted in the arrival of a squad of police. Lopez was routed from his place of concealment and brought to the jail. Police have not decided what charge to file against him.

Lopez owed Mrs. Ramon for back rent, and the latter secured the man's check from his place of employment, according to police.

Greenville And Talbert Groups To Hold Meeting

TALBERT, July 5.—The Women's Home Missionary societies of the Talbert and Greenville churches of the Methodist church are meeting tomorrow for the monthly Bible and mission study. Miss J. Smith will be the hostess at the J. H. Pope home at Talbert.

The new missionary book will be taken up at this time, "Our Temple Hills," the book which the society has been studying for some months past, having been completed.

The business meeting of the joint societies is scheduled for the third Thursday in the month and will be held at the church. The members are asked to bring the fancy work they are doing for the missionary bazaar which is planned for a little later in the year.

The lad was given medical treatment and it is believed that he will suffer no ill effects from the blow.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING THIS EVENING

Selection of a full-time school physician for the Santa Ana city schools, which position was authorized at the last regular meeting of the school trustees, will come up at a special board of education meeting to be held this evening at the board rooms, inquiries revealed today.

It was intimated that in view of the difficulty of obtaining a physician with training and experience in public health work, the matter of appointment may be deferred until some future time, thus saving the taxpayers the extra expense involved. In addition to $3600, the salary fixed by the board, the estimated expense would include the employment of an additional nurse, and the purchase of some equipment, it was learned.

Soft
lustrous
lingerie and yet washed
many times

IT WAS very precious. It was very soiled. It had to be washed—well. The usual care was taken. Why wasn't this lingerie utterly ruined? Lingerie often is, no matter how carefully you wash it. Why? The water was softened with Melo.

Hard water ruins lingerie because soap combining with the hardness in hard water forms a scum. That scum gets into the fine fibers of the fabric. It can't be rinsed out or washed out. But you try. The result is lingerie which is ruined utterly.

Use Melo. It makes all hard water completely soft. A pinch in the washbowl makes the water soft as rain water. Wash your lingerie in that.

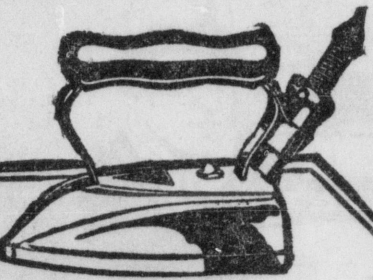

Two tablespoonfuls in the bath prevent the forming of that scummy ring around the tub. A teaspoonful in the dishpan keeps the greasy feel out of the dish-water. Melo saves $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{3}$ the amount of soap ordinarily used.

Keep a can of Melo in the kitchen, in the laundry, in the bathroom. Your grocer has Melo. Get it today!

The water in Santa Ana is 5 times as hard as it should be. Two tablespoonfuls of Melo will soften a bathtub full of water. Two tablespoonfuls in the washbowl. One teaspoonful in the dishpan.

Lyle Jellison of 1011 North Van Ness avenue, returned Saturday from a round trip on the Union oil tanker, La Brea, from San Pedro to Philadelphia, by way of the Panama canal.

Mrs. W. H. Fulcher, her daughter, Margaret Fulcher, and James Lampher, of Oakland, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Fulcher's sister, Mrs. J. E. Bray, 711 East Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Moore and their children, Opal and Ruby, 501 East Fourth street, are to leave Thursday via Santa Fe for Cleveland, Ohio, where their new Stearns-Knight six sedan will be delivered to them from the factory and they will continue their journey in it. They will visit Niagara Falls, Boston, New York City, Chicago, and their trip in general will be one of sightseeing. They are to return by way of Providence, Iowa, which is Mr. Moore's home town, and which he has not seen for thirty years. Mrs. Moore is a Native Daughter of California and has never traveled as far eastward as this trip will take her. In all they expect to cover about 6000 miles. The travelers are to return home in time for the opening of school in September.

M. D. Clark, former general manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of Italy, Mrs. Clark and their sons Leland and Marvin, left Saturday by motor for Waldo, Ark., where Mrs. Marvin Clark is visiting, and whence, joined by her, they will continue their trip, traveling by way of Florida. They will also visit New York City, Washington, Chicago and other large cities. They are to return along the coast route.

Mrs. J. R. Burke and son Frederick, 915 South Van Ness avenue, were passengers yesterday on the Santa Fe for Denver, Colorado. They are to spend the summer at one of the principal resorts near there and return in the early part of September.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Metz, 324 West Nineteenth street, spent July 3 and 4 with relatives in Los Angeles.

W. H. Dixon, contractor, Mrs. Dixon and their sons, Howard and Max of 1324 North Ross street, left Sunday on the Santa Fe for a visit in Houston, Dallas and Ft. Worth, Texas. They will also visit in Kansas. Mr. Dixon will return in about three weeks. Mrs. Dixon and children will remain until fall, and on their way home will visit the Grand Canyon, Denver, Salt Lake City and Colorado Springs.

Miss Edna L. Dessery, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Josephine Dessery, 1078 West Second street, left yesterday on the Santa Fe for Clarinda, Ia., where she will visit an uncle and aunt, stopping over at Lawrence, Kan., to visit a classmate of student days in the University of California, who is now a member of the faculty of the university at Lawrence. Miss Dessery who is teaching in the junior college at Taft, Calif., will return by way of Denver, Colo., and the Yellowstone Park. Her friends will accompany her to the latter point.

C. E. Dessery, insurance man, and Mrs. Dessery were guests over the week-end and holiday of George Ash, sales manager for the Willys-Knight Overland Sales company, on a very enjoyable trip to San Diego and Ocean Beach, and also on a fishing excursion to Sweetwater Dam.

Charles Promenshenkel of Huntington Beach left Saturday on the Santa Fe for Detroit and Ypsilanti, Mich., where he will visit for some time.

Robert G. Budrow of 1119 Spurgeon street left Saturday by way of San Francisco for South Bend, Ind., where he will study modern automobile construction and design in the Studebaker factory. He will be gone two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Altman of 521 South Parton street and the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. Buchard of Compton, accompanied by the children of both families, spent the week-end and holiday at their cabin "Out and Inn" in Cedarville Park.

Mrs. Byron Walbridge of 2222 North Main street left today for Catalina for a few days' visit with Mrs. Nellie Stang of Los Angeles, who is spending the summer there. Mrs. Walbridge's daughter Evelyn is already at the island.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maag, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maag and Mrs. William Maag were to leave today for a two-weeks' motor trip during which they will stop at Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, and other points which they may decide to visit while on the way.

Fred Kanath, who has been visiting at the home of J. E. Johnson of Orange, is booked by the Westgate Steamship agency to leave today on the S. S. Admiral Benson for Portland, Ore.

DREW 1-CENT FINE
DALLAS, Tex., July 5.—Arrested on a charge of possessing liquor, O. T. Lindy, farmer, spent 30 days in jail before his case was called. Thinking he had been punished enough, the judge fined him one cent. Lindy didn't have the money. Jail loomed again. Finally an attorney in the courtroom paid the fine.

Seventy-five artists, including the many nationally known members of the association, have painted pictures to be used in this project. These have been given to the association.

Next week these 75 paintings are to be hung in the lobby, dining-room and halls of St. Ann's Inn, and will be publicly exhibited during the week starting July 14. On the evening of the opening day, a public reception is to be given at St. Ann's at which time many of the artists will be present.

This exhibit is to be entirely different from other exhibitions inasmuch as the pictures are to be given away in return for subscriptions. That is, the money involved does not go to the artists, but directly and entirely to the gallery building fund.

W. A. Griffith, Laguna Beach artist, who is in charge of making arrangements for hanging the pictures, said today that the total value of the pictures to be exhibited is $15,000. This comprises the donation of the artists to the building fund. The association already owns the building site free of debt. Estimates show that the gallery can be built for $30,000. If $15,000 can be raised through the unusual plan of financing that has been undertaken, construction can commence soon.

In the meantime, the association is ready to receive subscriptions in any amounts.

The art gallery project is looked upon not as a Laguna Beach proposal, but as a matter of interest to the whole of Orange county. The art colony is the largest in the West, and has brought international fame to the Orange county coast and hills. Because the art gallery would prove a drawing power to the entire county the appeal for support for the art gallery comes just as strong outside Laguna Beach as inside it. It was pointed out today in Santa Ana.

ESCAPED PRISONER MUST FACE TRIAL

Daniel Brenning, Los Angeles, held in jail here on a charge of escaping an officer, following his capture by Deputy Jailer Joe B. Irvine on May 24, 1926, when Irvine took him to a physician's office, was held to answer to the superior court today on completion of his preliminary examination before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

There was only one witness, Irvine, who told how Brenning disappeared from the office where he had taken him for medical treatment.

Brenning wanted to testify but when told that what he might say could be used against him in the higher court, changed his mind. He was not represented by attorney. Deputy District Attorney Lew Blodgett represented the state.

Bail was fixed at $2000 which Brenning did not make.

THIEVES STEAL 125 CHICKS IN 3 RAIDS

Taking advantage of the absence of ranch owners from their homes over the holiday period, thieves stole approximately 125 chickens from three places yesterday and Sunday, according to reports filed today at the sheriff's office.

Approximately 70 chickens were taken from the Tom Haster ranch, one mile west of the Anaheim road, on Orangethorpe avenue Sunday night, Haster reported to the officers.

Twenty-five chickens, a new tire and a steering wheel were reported taken from the place of Mrs. E. Minter, who resides just outside the city limits of Santa Ana off Flower street.

Fifteen young chickens and 15 hens were stolen from the Maurer ranch, Katella road, one mile west of the Katella sub-station, Sunday night.

INDIANS WILL GIVE PROGRAM AT CHURCH

Sponsored by the Santa Ana Ministerial union, comprising pastors of the various churches of the city, will be a program of music, readings and drama, to be given tomorrow night in the auditorium of the First M. E. church, by Indian youths from Sherman Institute, Riverside.

In the group to be featured will be two of special interest, Martin Napa in Indian dress and "Harry Lauder" in Scottish costume, both of whom are said to be extremely talented, and virtually a whole program in themselves. C. W. Cell is director of the troupe.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock, and no admission will be asked although a tree-will offering will be taken so that those who wish to contribute to the youths' expenses may do so. The program offered by these native Americans has met with warm approval wherever it has been given, and comes highly recommended by clubs, churches and individual ministers and laymen. It is open to everyone and a large crowd is anticipated.

Why fast washing is cleaner, safer and more sanitary—

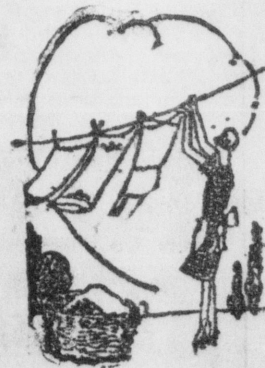

Use the World's Fastest Washer In Your Home

The "1900" WHIRLPOOL

Fastidious women—and that means all American women—cannot allow their personal belongings and table linens to be washed other than under their own supervision. Only in their own homes can they feel sure that their laundry will be handled as they want it and in the sanitary and safe fashion to which they are accustomed

That is why more and more women turn to the Whirlpool—the world's fastest washing machine. Here is a washer that does an average family laundry in one hour a week and does it thoroughly, spotlessly and safely. No chemicals and injurious cleaners are needed. The fast water action created by the Whirlpool circulator cleanses clothes merely by the use of soap and water and leaves them fresh scented, and sanitary. Free yourself from laundry cares and do your own washing in your own way with ease and simplicity.

There is nothing to learn about operating the Whirlpool; nothing to adjust, practically nothing to oil. Clothes or water may be added while washing. A tubful or handkerchief can be washed with equal convenience. And when you are through it may readily be pushed out of the way until next washday. Economy, cleanliness and health all demand such a washer as the Whirlpool. It is built just like a fine automobile for speed, convenience and durability. It will last a lifetime and save its cost in one year of satisfactory washings.

S. A. V. I. WATER RATES HIGHEST IN HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION

Directors Increase Price To $1.20 Per Head To Create Emergency Fund

PROTECTION WORK WILL COST MUCH

Company Running Between 20 and 25 Heads and Balance Being Pumped

Irrigation water supplied by the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company today was being distributed at the highest price in the 50 year history of the organization, and this despite the fact that rains of this winter were heavier than for last year and some of the previous years.

According to Ozro Mansur, secretary of the company, the directors have directed the establishment of a price of $1.20 an hour for one hundred miners inches of water, or, in the vernacular of irrigationists, a head.

The company never before has charged more than $1 an hour for the service. Mansur explained the advanced price has been set to create a fund to meet a possible emergency for work that must be done on the river before next winter to protect the company's pumping plants.

Pointing out that the plants were threatened by the flood waters the past winter and that they might go out should heavy rains prevail next winter, the secretary said that the directors anticipated the expenditure of $15,000 to $20,000 in protection work.

Discussing further the cause for the increased rate, Mansur said that to meet the heavy summer demand it has been necessary to call on the owners of private plants for supplies and that the private owners have been paid $2 an hour for a head, while the company has been reselling at $1 a head.

The secretary said that a heavy demand has been made on the company, due to the fact the land owners have discovered that waters from the heavy rains did not penetrate the soil as deeply as was believed during the rainy season they would.

"Ranchers did not irrigate as heavily in the winter months as they usually do, because of their belief that the winter rains were sufficient," Mansur said. "It has developed that the water ran off instead of soaking into the ground, and the result has been that the early summer demand is heavier than usual."

The company is now running between 20 and 25 heads in its ditches, of which approximately 12 heads are gravity water. The balance is being pumped.

"Piracy" of the ether is charged by C. C. Julian, Los Angeles promoter and owner of station KMTR. When he went on the air the other night to continue his "expose" of conditions which caused wrecking of the petroleum company bearing his name, reception was ruined by shrieks and yowls. Radio experts say that it could only be the result of bungling by the station operator or deliberate interference. On the latter score Julian has laid complaint before the federal radio authorities. The pictures show Julian's station and Julian at the "mike."

JULIAN CHARGES AIR PIRACY

SIX ARRESTED IN STUD GAME ON SATURDAY

A Saturday night raid by Santa Ana police officers on a stud poker game in a house on West Artesia street, between Third and Fourth streets, netted six arrests, a small amount of money and a sack full of poker chips and cards, according to a police report.

The men alleged to have been "sitting in" the game, are all Mexicans and are now in the county jail, pending a hearing before City Recorder J. F. Talbott. They are: S. Quarez, 56, 1802 West Second street; Valentin Lara, 42, Artesia street; F. Valdez, 33, First and Lacy streets; Carlos Salazar, 49, First and Franklin streets; Jose Hernandez, 38, West First street; Esteban Gutierrez, 21, 418 Fourteenth street, and Fidel Chalez, 24, 800 East Fourth street.

Officers Perry, Adams and Peterson made the raid, peeping at the players for some time before ordering the game stopped, they said, and after they are alleged to have seen money pass hands, they reported.

CONVENTION OF C. E. HERE BEST ONE EVER HELD

Executive Committee Has Session and Makes Its Final Reports of Meet

From a standpoint of the results accomplished, the state convention of the California Christian Endeavor union held in Santa Ana last week was the most successful in the history of the organization. Glen D. Wight, of Corona, last year's president, said at the meeting of the committee chairmen held at the home of H. P. Rankin for the final reports.

Wight said that the success was in large measure due to the careful detail management of the convention by the local committee headed by Rankin as general chairman.

The arrangement facilities in Santa Ana were ideal, it was said. All of the committee chairmen gave accounts of the work under their charge. All outstanding bills were filed, as far as possible. The financial report showed that the convention, despite the unequal success of the sessions, was one of the least expensive the state union has held.

The convention expenses were about $1400. This is within the budget amount.

A surprise was sprung on Rankin by the convention committee when they met at his home. As a token of their esteem, the committee presented a desk pen mount to him with Rankin's name and the words "State C. E. Convention, Santa Ana, 1927" engraved upon it. The gift was presented by Mrs. Warren Brakeman. Rankin expressed his appreciation and he gave to each of the chairmen a panoramic picture of the convention delegations.

The committee concluded the convention business. Several resolutions of thanks were extended to those who assisted in the arrangements. A vote of thanks was given to the Highway Bulb gardens, The Register, the city Y. M. C. A., the Spurgeon Memorial church, Roland E. Dye, scout executive; W. D. Rudd, Remington Rand Co., Tiersman Typewriter Co., and L. C. Rogers, chief of Santa Ana police.

BOOK READING CONTEST OPENS FOR JUVENILES

The second book reading contest at the Santa Ana juvenile library opened July 1. In the contest held last fall more boys were entered than girls, a boy won the coveted first place for having read the most books, and more boys have evinced an interest in the contest now under way.

There is a vast difference between the contest that is to help to fill the long hours of vacation days and the one past. In the former contest the number of books read were considered, with a due regard, of course, to their standing in the book world. Then the librarians listened patiently to sketchy accounts of books apparently not thoroughly read, carefully correcting the construction of sentences, supplying "did" for "done," requesting the removal of one negative from a statement containing two and otherwise assisting the young aspirants in their verbal reports.

In the present contest entrants will be required to read 16 books, only six of which are to be fiction. The choice of the books to be read is a wide one and includes geographies, travels, history and scientific subjects. Girls prefer travel and biographies, say the librarians while as a rule the boys devour the books relating to inventions and scientific subjects.

Quite recently the desk in the children's room has been moved into the room where the volumes of non-fiction are kept and it is said that this has stimulated the reading of these books as the young readers are now obliged to enter this room to exchange their books. They look about them and browse around among the books a bit and in nearly all cases select a non-fiction work or two to take home.

It is thought that the contests will still further the interest in non-fiction. Two months time will be allowed for reading 16 books and young readers are now obliged to enter this room to exchange their books. They look about them and browse around among the books a bit and in nearly all cases select a non-fiction work or two to take home.

Bail Is Denied Woman In Murder

BRENTON, Ill., July 5.—Circuit Judge Charles H. Miller has denied bond for Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, convicted jointly with Rev. Lawrence M. Hight for the murder of her husband, Wilford Sweetin.

Mrs. Sweetin was recently granted a new trial by the supreme court and is being held in jail at Fairfield, pending a new hearing.

Mrs. Sweetin admitted on the stand that she had confessed to poisoning her husband but said she had done so because of fear of mob violence.

LIQUOR CAUSE OF 16 ARRESTS OVER WEEK END

Back in "the old days," celebrating the "Grand and Glorious Fourth" might have meant going out and getting "on a big drunk."

But today, with the Volstead act the outstanding law of the country and where safe and sane Fourth are preached from one year to another, when saloons are closed and liquor can only be bought by whispering, persons would think that as far as liquor was concerned, the South of yesterday was dry.

Nevertheless, there were 16 persons arrested here over the three day holiday, either for being drunk, or on charges where liquor played a prominent part.

Jailers said that not in a long, long time have they seen as many persons locked up on charges where liquor was concerned, as over the recent holiday.

Gilbert Anderson, Westminster, was arrested for being drunk Saturday night, by Officers Swain and Barnard.

B. L. Wilson, 1001 North Ross street, was arrested on a drunk charge yesterday by Officers Swain and Barnard.

J. S. Cavado, 48, Delhi, was arrested Sunday on a drunk charge, by Deputy Sheriffs Knight and Roberts.

Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard arrested Fred Dominguez, Artesia, for being drunk, Sunday.

J. S. Hernandez, Anaheim, found a berth in the county jail on a drunk charge Sunday. He was arrested by Officer Howard.

Ernest Gracian, 23, was arrested at Tustin for being drunk.

Edmund Thomas, 25, truck driver of Lynwood, was arrested for being drunk by Officers Moxley and Bates. This was Sunday afternoon.

Alfred Garcia, Los Angeles, was arrested for drinking while driving his automobile.

A. Valdez, 31, Orange, is in the county jail, charged with "driving drunk." He was arrested by Officers Foster and Wolford yesterday morning on Van Ness street.

Paul K. Williams, 20, of Alhambra, was driving his automobile while under the influence of liquor here Sunday, according to officers who arrested him.

Andy Kalet, Anaheim, is in jail charged with a felony, because he is asserted to have driven his car here while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Saturday night at Second and Main streets.

S. G. Moninger is in the county jail, charged with being drunk. He was in the machine with Kalet when officers overtook them.

T. Sticker, Belvedere Gardens, is in jail charged with possession of intoxicating liquor. He was arrested by Officers Knight and Scott, at Atwood.

J. A. Jensen, a restaurant man, of Atwood, is charged with possession of about three gallons of liquor, following his arrest by deputy sheriffs over the holiday.

Following an automobile crash near Costa Mesa Sunday, R. Zuniga, 22, Los Angeles was arrested and is being held in jail on a charge of being drunk.

Charged with being drunk, Bert Wilson, 45, teamster, of Tenth and Ross streets, was arrested by Officers Swain and Barnard yesterday Sunday.

GLENN MARTIN WRITES LETTER TO HIS FATHER

The City of Cleveland airplane sent out here for the air meet by Glenn L. Martin, former Santa Ana man, was not one of his latest creations, according to a letter received by his father, C. Y. Martin, 510 Minter street, via airmail, Saturday.

A portion of Martin's letter to his father, written on Wednesday of last week read:

"The day before yesterday we started one of our small commercial planes to Santa Ana, in the interest of the city of Cleveland, the chamber of commerce and the Cleveland aerial industry. The assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, Clifford Gildersleeve, representing Cleveland and the chamber of commerce going along as passenger with one of our pilots, Kenneth R. Cole, doing the flying.

"We are delivering four three-purpose (bombing, torpedo and scouting) planes per week to the navy and are anticipating additional orders within the next few days for more navy bombers. Aeronautics seems to be looking up quite rapidly and it would seem necessary to double my plant very soon to take care of a portion of the business."

In one part of the letter the former Santa Ana boy expressed his regrets at being unable to come out here at the present time either for a visit or to attend the meet, but intimated that he would forego the pleasure at this time, with a view to making a trip to his former home some time later in the year.

Powder Puff Taboo In London Offices

LONDON, July 5.—The London business girl's penchant for powdering her nose during business hours is to be discouraged.

A new order posted in many London factories and city business offices expressly forbids such practices.

It has been noted in one factory that a stenographer, otherwise extremely efficient, stopped working 15 times during one hour to powder her nose.

BLACK BOTTOM IS OLD

QUEBEC, P. Q., July 5.—Jacques Garneau, 60-year-old folk dancer, has proved the black bottom no new dance. His recent interpretation of the dance of the Canadian folk song and handcraft festival brought out the wiggling hip, quivering knee and spinal movements featured in the modern black bottom. Officials of the National Museum of Canada said the dance was brought to the new world by the French colonists more than 300 years ago.

More Women Than Men In Gay Paree

PARIS, July 5.—Census statistics for 1926 prove that Paris is really a woman's paradise. Women outnumber men in the metropolis by 300,000.

Strangely, the preponderance of woman is particularly marked in the rich quarters of the city. In the Passy and Etoile districts they exceed the men by 20 per cent.

In districts inhabited chiefly by the working classes women outnumber the men by only six per cent.

Unemployment In Ireland Is Lower

DUBLIN, July 5.—Belfast is on the up-grade.

Her unemployed has decreased from 100,000 in 1921 to 29,968 for the year ending May, 1927.

The fall in unemployment has continued every week of this year, being over 9 percent in the shipping industry, 6.6 percent in the linen industry and in the building trade 9.7 percent.

20,000 ATTEND AVIATION MEET ON FINAL DAY: RACES FEATURE

But One Accident Occurs In Three Days—Naval And Army Planes Here

CHINESE DRAGON AIRPLANE HERE

City of Cleveland Will Leave Today for Few Days in Los Angeles

A crowd estimated at 20,000 persons yesterday witnessed the closing of the first International Aviation Peace jubilee staged in Santa Ana. The Martin airport at the foot of South Main street was crowded to its capacity and highways for miles around the airport were lined with cars filled with persons anxious to witness the various events.

It was one of the most successful air meets ever staged, according to Roger J. Adams, general chairman of the committee in charge. The three day meet, which opened Saturday was carried on with many stunt exhibitions, and many races, without one serious accident. One young man whose name was not learned was slightly injured Saturday when he backed into a propeller and received a badly bruised back. He was at the meet again yesterday, however. Adams, today credited the success of the meet and the absence of accidents, to the fact that the planes entered were of the latest type and all first class ships.

The "City of Cleveland," big commercial plane sent here by the city of Cleveland and the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, as a tribute to Glenn L. Martin, its manufacturer and once a resident of this city, is scheduled to hop off this morning for Los Angeles where it will remain a couple of days before starting its return journey to Cleveland. The plane made the trip across the western states in less than 30 hours flying time, according to Clifford Gildersleeve, secretary of the aviation committee of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. Kenneth R. Cole was the pilot of the plane.

W. B. Mamer, of Spokane, Wn., took off from the field here Sunday evening. Mamer is a forest patrol man for the government and his return to Spokane was hurried on that account.

Naval Planes Here

Planes at the meet included many of the finest on the Pacific coast. Many of the best navy and army planes were here Sunday. The navy squadron of planes was in charge of Lieut. J. E. Dyer, flight commander.

N. E. Dodson, parachute instructor at Rockwell field for both army and navy boys, gave the crowds a thrill every day when he dropped from speeding planes for a distance of from 500 to 700 feet before opening his parachute.

T. A. Waldron, Los Angeles motion picture stunt man, gave the crowds a thrill yesterday afternoon when he stood upright on the upper wing of a plane piloted by Eddie Martin, of Santa Ana, while the Santa Ana airman looped the loop, and performed other air stunts. Walter Cahill and Rosalie Evans, of Glendale, parachute jumpers and wing walkers also entertained the crowd.

THIS NURSE NOW HAS GOOD HEALTH

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time and I would not be without it in the house. As I am a children's nurse, I have to be on my feet a great deal and your medicine has helped me wonderfully. I was hardly able to do my housework when I began taking it, and now I am a strong and well woman, able to do all that and go out nursing besides. I have also used the Sanative Wash and found it beneficial."—Mrs. GEORGE L. STEWART, 103 Davis St., Greenfield, Mass.

Valuable for Weakness
"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a valuable medicine for weakness."—Mrs. J. A. PIETSON, Box 397, Lancaster, Pa. Hundreds of letters like these are received by the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., from grateful women who say that their health has improved since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

JUNE BUSINESS ON COAST NEAR RECORD MONTH

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Although lacking in spectacular developments, business for the month of June held close to the record-breaking position already established making time, according to the monthly business review released by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce today.

"There has been a considerable reaction from the Julian collapse and the agitation which has followed," the report states. "It seems clear that regardless of any direct losses the chief effect from this situation has been the psychological result in causing uncertainty in the minds of the members of the community."

A balancing factor was had in the large amount of tourist travel, especially arrivals in automobiles, boats and special trains, and hotels and apartment houses have been well filled and the reaction on retail trade has been favorable.

A number of constructive developments including a large amount of building which is under way has kept employment at a high level. Unemployment has been reduced to a minimum through this and the increase of seasonal work in agricultural lines and canning plants.

Bank clearings show a gain of one percent over June, 1926, while postal receipts show a gain of 9 percent. Retail stores report a steady volume of business stimulated by summer lines and growth of commerce through the port which has again established a new record, with an additional favorable factor.

"A particularly definite basis for continued prosperity is the buying power of the close-in agricultural districts. They are now closing the third highly profitable year on oranges, which with the extremely bright prospects for walnuts, means millions of dollars to spend," the report states.

"Summarizing the situation, we see excellent agricultural conditions, expanding markets for our goods in both domestic and foreign fields, increases in retail sales, and an industrial structure which is developing at the fastest pace in our history. All these points to sound progress for the future."

Oil production in the California fields during June turned up slightly. Exports to foreign countries out of the Port of Los Angeles totaled more than $60,000,000 for the first half of 1927, according to figures compiled for the past six months by the trade extension department.

"With the coming of July, Southern California Agriculture is mainly concerned with the harvesting of the deciduous fruit crop, which this year shows a larger yield than last year. The price range is far from satisfactory to growers, although because of exceedingly heavy crops in 1926 and quite large yields in prospect throughout the state this year, lower prices are to be expected," the report says.

Other lines remain firm, the citrus market having eased up slightly during the past week, but this condition is considered temporary. Most truck crops are meeting a good market, but the Imperial Valley cantaloupe deal has been exceedingly dull with a new low price for several weeks.

NOISY GOLDFISH
NEW YORK, July 5.—The noise of two goldfish swimming in front of the microphone, amplified 10,000,000 times, sounded to a radio audience here recently like the drumming of a horse's hoofs on a hard road. The beating of a man's heart, under the same amplification, sounded like the thump of a ship's engine and the ticking of a watch like the cracking of a compressed air drill.

Police News

Lloyd Shank, Yorba Linda, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday that the front seat of his automobile was stolen while the car was parked near the Orana theater.

Edna Gonzales, 19, Los Angeles, and Henrietta Salazar, 23, Los Angeles, are being held in the county jail for investigation, and Alfred Garcia, 21, Los Angeles, is under arrest for reckless driving. They were brought here from Erea Saturday night, by Officer Williams, following their arrest in that city.

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, A. Valdez, 31, 401 West Chapman street, Orange, was arrested at Fourth and Van Ness street at 5:35 a. m. yesterday, by Officers Foster and Wolford. He is being held in the county jail.

Lynwood Mitchell, a negro boot-black, was arrested by Officers Adams and Peterson on South Bristol street Sunday night, and is being held in the county jail for investigation, the police reported today.

A. Garcia, 24, 811 Pine street, Los Angeles, and Hortense Perez, 22, 228 North Figueroa street, Los Angeles, were lodged in jail here Saturday night by Officer Kelly of the Anaheim police force. No charge was placed against them.

C. H. Williams, drummer at the West Coast-Walker theater, reported to police yesterday that a snare drum and set of sticks were stolen from the theater some time Sunday night. The drum was valued at $40, he reported.

Paul K. Williams, 20, fireman at Alhambra, was arrested here Sunday on a charge of being drunk while driving his automobile. He was arrested at Seventh and Main streets by Officers Adams and Perry and is being held in the county jail.

Airplanes To Be Used To Map U. S. Waterways

WASHINGTON, July 5.—At the request of the state department, army airplanes will make a photographic record of waterways along the Mexican border to provide information for the international water commission, which is charged with equitable distribution of border waters between the United States and Mexico.

The planes, to be taken from Texas air stations, will survey the Rio Grande from Roma, Texas, to the Pecos river, the route of the proposed all-American canal and the Tijuana river. The photographs later will be turned over to the Mexican-American border commission for possible use in settling border line disputes of many years standing.

Similar use of airplanes for several geological surveys has been decided upon at the request of the interior department, and beginning in July, two photographic detachments will begin making the surveys.

Trains In France Vacuum Cleaned

PARIS, July 5.—Using the principles employed by some garages in this country for quick cleaning of automobiles, a railway in France has installed large vacuum tunnels for its cars. All that is necessary is to pull a train through an archway lined with brushes and vacuum cleaning attachments, which are operated automatically, and the cars are thoroughly cleaned and polished and ready for use when they emerge.

Hotels in Italy have abolished the practice of tipping and now add 10 per cent to their bills in lieu of a fee.

Bible Reader Is Put In Jail For Clubbing Horses

FORT MORGAN, Colo., July 5.—Norvel E. Pyle, 32 years old, a ranch hand who reads a Bible constantly while perched on the seat of his riding plow on a ranch near here, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail by Justice V. S. Sanders for beating a mare and her colt nearly to death with a heavy club.

Pyle, who was arrested by State Humans Officer W. V. Truitt of Denver, admitted beating the horses and declared that he would do it again.

Justice Sanders openly lamented the lack of a law that would permit him to order Pyle to be beaten as he beat the defenseless animals, as the farm hand, still clutching his Bible, which he was allowed to retain in his cell, was marched off to his stay in jail.

Two other farm hands, Elmer Graff and Raymond Anderson, were also fined $10 and costs for beating horses.

MASS MARRIAGES

PARIS, July 5.—For the sake of economy many couples in a workmen's quarter of Paris are married en masse. They assemble every Saturday, line up, and the principals and witnesses sign the marriage register as they pass into the big "wedding salon" of the city hall.

Our Neighbors

RIVERSIDE—Closing the fiscal year period with nearly 25 percent increase in valuation over the 1925-26 total, June building established the highest mark attained by any month since January, 1924. The June amount was $21,850, which has been approached since the 1924 total only by April of this year with $219,160. The fiscal year total, computed from figures released by City Engineer Campbell, is $2,736,840, more than one-half million dollars ahead of the last fiscal year total of $2,167,680.50 and nearly $700,000 beyond the 1924-25 valuation. The present calendar year also is expected to establish a new high point with its six months' momentum totaling $1,552,000.

SAN DIMAS—San Dimas Fruit association is closing the first pool of valencias and other houses throughout the valley have already brought the shipping to a close, with approximately 600 cars already sent east from the immediate valley. There remain, from the same district, which includes the houses in the San Antonio exchange, the San Dimas house, the La Verne house and the two co-operative plants, approximately 1000 carloads for shipment. Most of the San Antonio houses have closed for the summer and will remain closed until the middle of September, when picking will be resumed and the remainder of the crop will be moved east. There are 676 cars yet to be moved from the houses in the exchange.

SAN BERNARDINO — Building records for all time were smashed when a total of $1,854,444 was reached, approximately $50,000 more than for the same period last year. Postal receipts were $71,109, the highest in the city's history, and several thousand dollars more than for the first six months of 1926. Bank clearings for the half year exceeded all previous totals by more than eight and one-half million dollars. The total to date is $60,910,117, compared with $52,276,251 for the 1926 period.

LONG BEACH—With the issuance of the building permit by the city, work is to start as soon as possible on the new ten-story fire-proof apartment at 130 Linden by R. E. Campbell, owner and contractor. The building is to be one of the most modern in the city. It will cost $25,000 and will house eighty-two families. According to the firm of Wright and Gentry, designers, the architecture is to be of the Spanish Renaissance style. The building will be made of skeleton steel with reinforced concrete walls. It will be 54 by 180 feet over all and will rise to a height of 140 feet.

CORONA—Corona board of education has let the contract for three units to its present $150,000 high school building to G. C. Berner and work will be started immediately on the $50,592 improvement, that figure being the contract price.

SANTA ANA FRATERNAL AND PATRIOTIC ORDERS

GRAND MASTER INSPECTS S. A. I. O. O. F. LODGE

C. H. S. Bidwell of Sacramento, grand master I. O. O. F. of California, paid his official visit to Santa Ana lodge, No. 236, I. O. O. F. Thursday night when they met at Getty hall, 619 East Fourth street.

Redmen from Corona, Los Angeles, Riverside, and other Southern California towns were present to greet Bliss.

An interesting vaudeville entertainment was given when the Fisher sisters gave several dances and Mrs. Von Hosselin presented several piano numbers. A special dancing feature by Miss Woodward of Laguna Beach was also enjoyed.

During the refreshment hour Bliss made a talk on the duties of a Red Man. He told of the history of the lodge and dealt with the astonishing growth of the order.

Following the lodge meeting when inspection of the work was made by the grand master, the meeting was thrown open to all interested and Bidwell made a talk on the two tasks of Santa Ana Odd Fellows. These tasks are the keeping up of the old folks' home at Saratoga and the orphans' home at Gilroy. He accompanied his talk with moving pictures showing scenes in the two homes.

The banquet rooms had been decorated in red roses and of special interest was a round table on which appeared miniature figures giving the lesson which all Odd Fellows must know.

Members and their wives gathered at the canyon Saturday afternoon and evening where they pitched their tents and made camp beneath the many oak trees which cover the club grounds.

Sports and games of various kinds occupied the daylight hours while the evenings were given over to musical hours and dancing, as the guests wished.

Encampment degrees were conferred on a large class of candidates by the degree teams from Orange Grove encampment, Los Angeles; Anaheim, Huntington Park and Glendale.

LESS AND LESS
CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 5.—There seems to be no change in flapper attire this year, but those "in the know" are aware of a weighty difference. Last summer the weight of the average girl's attire was found to be sometimes as low as 14 ounces. This year, merchants have estimated, the weight is to reach an even dozen. Many flappers have abandoned corsets, the merchants say, and wear simply step-ins, slip and dress.

Great Chief Of Redmen Visits

Porter L. Bliss of San Francisco, great chief of records, made an official visit to Kioh Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, Thursday night when they met at Getty hall, 619 East Fourth street.

Redmen from Corona, Los Angeles, Riverside, and other Southern California towns were present to greet Bliss.

MRS. LESLIE IS NAMED HEAD OF REBEKAH VETS

Mrs. Lovisa Leslie was elected president of the Veteran Rebekah association when that lodge met Friday at the Balboa Island home of Mrs. Laura Marcher. Other officers to be elected were Mrs. Alyda Putman, first vice president; Mrs. Zella Murray, second vice president; Mrs. Clara Wedgewood, secretary; Mrs. Alice Whitney, assistant secretary; Mrs. Flora Pyle, financial secretary; Mrs. Hattie Peters, treasurer; Mrs. Lettie Morgan, chaplain; Mrs. Sarah Harris, marshal, and Mrs. Ida Carey, inside guard.

The day was spent in sewing and conversation, or in swimming, as guests wished.

It was announced that the annual picnic of members and their families would be held August 5, at Birch park.

MASONS WILL CAMP AT VALLEY OF MOON

James B. McLees of San Diego, grand high priest of the Royal Arch Masons of California, and Ray Woodward, grand captain of hosts, were honored guests Thursday night of the Santa Ana lodge, Royal Arch Masons, when McLees made his official inspection of District 23.

The meeting was opened with a 6:30 o'clock dinner when representatives from lodges in Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton were present.

Immediately following the dinner hour Maurice Phillips and Alan Revell gave several vocal and piano solos.

Nearly 200 Masons received the Mark Master degree during the lodge services when McLees and Woodward both presented interesting addresses dealing with the duties of a Royal Arch Mason.

Asa Hoffman, high priest of the local lodge, talked on what the Santa Ana order has accomplished and gave a brief outline of its history for the benefit of the grand high priest. In a like manner did Nicholas A. Nichols of Orange, Adolphe Wigiash of Anaheim, and William Rogers of Fullerton speak regarding their own lodges.

Former Kaiser Can't Return To Germany, Claim

BERLIN, July 5.—As long as there is a republic in Germany, former Kaiser Wilhelm II won't return to his native land, even though all legal restrictions barring him be removed. This opinion was expressed by Lieutenant-General von Cramon in the course of the public discussion over extending the defense of the republic act.

"The whole discussion," he says, "as to whether the Kaiser may or will return to Germany is absolutely futile. So long as Germany holds to the republican form of state, he cannot and will not come back."

"The Kaiser takes the position that he was dethroned against his will and renounced the crown under duress. Were he today to request the German government to permit him to visit Germany, or were he, in case the ominous restriction be removed, to return to his fatherland, this would be tantamount to his recognizing the republican government as such and to his renouncing all his rights voluntarily."

Twist Is Put On English Language

PARIS, July 5.—Americans need not blush overmuch for queer spelling in their bill-of-fare French after reading this year's catalog of the Art Salon.

Here are some of the gems: "Pole lady" instead of "Polish lady."

"Young Veals" for "Calves."

"Evening gown" becomes "night gown."

"The Bather" is "Bath-keeper."

TWO AUTOISTS SPEND FOURTH IN LOCAL JAIL

The drivers of two automobiles, said to have been in the same party, going south for the holiday, were arrested and are being held in the county jail, one for drunkenness and reckless driving and the other for operating a machine without proper identification.

S. Del Real, 22 Whittier, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Roscoe Knight and State Traffic Officer V. Barnhill, after he is alleged to have driven his machine in such a manner as to force a machine off the road, near the Orange County hospital.

R. Zunniga, 22, bread wrapper of 3695 South San Pedro street, Los Angeles, was arrested by the same officers, near Costa Mesa, on the drunk and reckless driving charge. The Zunniga machine is said to have crashed into another car. No one was reported injured.

Both were arrested Sunday and spent the Fourth of July in jail. Both will probably be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison today.

U. S. Films Hurt By French Law

PARIS, July 5.—The American film industry, which supplies five-sevenths of the movies shown in France, has been hit by the new law which will become effective in a year and a half, denying the entry of films manufactured from any inflammable substance. The delay was given in order to enable the film magnates to find a suitable substitute for celluloid.

THIS SERVICE COSTS YOU NOTHING.

Simply Amazing!

How much does it cost?

You will have dirty clothes as long as you live, but you pay for an Easy only once. It costs only a little more than old-fashioned washers. Purchase terms are liberal. On a monthly basis the cost is small, with a nominal charge for time payments.

.. the new and unusual ways
this washer saves work ...

Women say that the New Easy is five years ahead of its time, so unique are the time- and labor-saving features that it offers

No wringer—can't catch your fingers
No broken buttons—less sewing
No deep wrinkles—easier ironing
No pails of water to empty—saves your back Washes by the world-famous Easy Vacuum Cup System
Dampdries by means of marvelous new-type drying tub
Empties water by ingenious new system
Great speed—cuts the job in half by washing and drying at the same time Capacity extra-large, and adjustable

Heaviest dirty pieces washed clean; finest dainty things washed safely
Drying tub leaves clothes evenly damp
You still hang pieces in sun and air
Washes and dries pillows—without removing the feathers
Special gas heater keeps water hot; also handy for cold-pack canning Automatic starting and stopping switch—prevents blowing fuses
No oiling worry—automatically done
No old-fashioned belt
Runs as easily, smoothly and quietly as a fine motor car

You can even wash and dry pillows in the New Easy, without removing the feathers.

WASHING HINTS
Water Softening

NO washing can be efficiently done unless the soap can do its work properly. Soap cannot make a good suds in hard water. Therefore, if the water you use is hard, you must soften it. Laundry soda is an efficient agent in softening water for laundry work. It should be well dissolved and care should be used to combine it with the right amount of soap. Ordinary sal soda crystals may be used. Always dissolve them first in hot water—1 lb. of crystals to 1 gallon water. One-half cupful of this solution should be sufficient for one tubful of water in the EASY. An alternative is a prepared "modified soda," which is a combination of washing soda and bicarbonate of soda. This should be dissolved in hot water. Write for my free booklet.

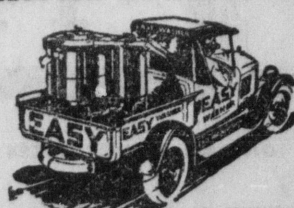

The New Easy has two tubs. One washes the clothes, the other dampdries, and they both work at once. Each tub holds the equal of eight double sheets. For homes without electricity the Easy is furnished with a simple gasoline motor.

COMING SOON .. your whole week's washing FREE.. Don't miss this chance

In order to help advertise the New Easy our representatives are arranging to do one week's washing free for women in certain residential sections. Naturally, these men cannot reach every home at once. But your turn is coming.

It won't cost you a cent or obligate you in any way. If you don't want to wait, telephone any of the dealers listed below and arrange for an appointment ahead of your neighbors. You must see this wonder-worker in action.

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE:

Darkest Africa

SKETCHES BY BESSEY
SYNOPSIS BY BRAUCHER

By Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26

The early chapters of African exploration are tales of desperate effort and heroic failure. Names like Timbuctoo and the Niger, unknown, mysterious, lured the bravest of the men who seek new worlds. James Bruce, a Scot, set out in the eighteenth century to find the Nile's source. Abyssinians captured him and took him to their king.

Bruce's life was in danger, but he cured a royal princess of a serious illness and earned thereby the right to keep his head.

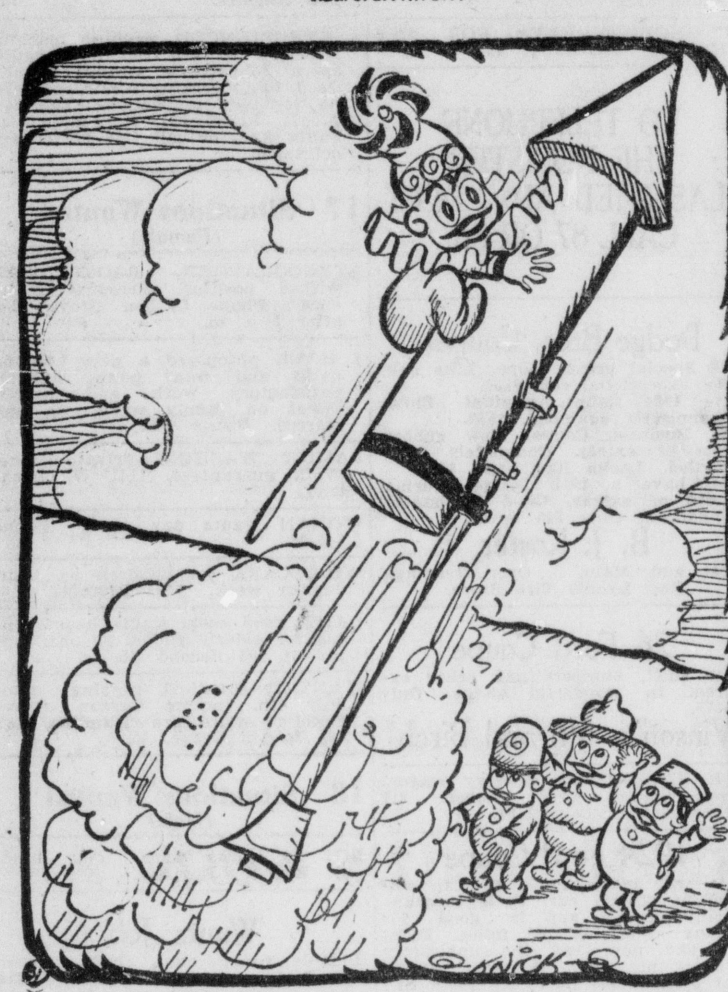

Bruce returned to write a book of the wonders of the dark interior of Africa, but he was disbelieved.

This map of Africa shows Egypt in the upper right-hand corner, and, to the left, the vast desert that no man could cross. The ribbon through Egypt and down into the wild interior was the Nile. Where the trees are shown all was wild country, untouched by white men before the exploits of Bruce started others on the same mission.

THE KNYMITE'S

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tines left the mirror place. A smile spread on each one's face. "That surely gave me quite a laugh," said Scouty to the bunch. "One mirror made me look so fat, I felt I'd bust if I sat. It really made me feel that I had eaten too much lunch."

"The one that I was looking in," snapped Clowny, "made me look real thin. Why I was like a toothpick, or a tiny blade of grass." And thus the Tines all agreed that it was lots of fun, indeed, just standing in the mirror house and looking in a glass.

And then the Princess said, "I fear you do not know what day is here." "Oh, yes, we do," laughed Coppy. "It's July fourth. Am I right?" The Princess said, "Yes, that's the date. We'll all join hands and celebrate, but I will do the lighting of whatever there's to light."

The whole crowd now was feeling gay and Princess Fun soon led the way to lots of wondrous fireworks.

but she told them all, "Don't touch. To play with fire is not for you. That's for the grown up folks to do. Sometimes a burn is bad that you imagine not so much."

And then the Princess thrilled them all by making sparks and such things fall. She sent off whirling pin-wheels that went sizzling through the air. A big sky rocket stood near by, and Clowny thought "Why should not I hop on it when she lights it. I am sure she wouldn't care."

So, when the rocket shot up high, wee Clowny sailed out toward the sky. The others stood and watched him. They were all quite terrified. But then their terror turned to cheers, and gladness drove away their fears for Clowny dropped right back to earth, and landed safe and sound.

(The Tynmites ride the merry-go-round in the next story.)

PARENTS SHOULD KEEP ALL PROMISES MADE TO CHILDREN

EDITOR'S NOTE—Keep your promises to your child, Olive Roberts Barton counsels parents in this article—another of her series on THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF CHILD TRAINING.

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Mary, we're going to spend the day with Aunt Edith. Isn't that fine. You're going to wear your new blue coat and hat. Aunt Edith wants to see them."

"But, mother," says little Mary, "it is raining and I'd like to wear my rubber raincoat and take the little umbrella that matches. If I go to Aunt Edith's I'll want to walk over to Grandma's by myself. You said I could next time. And if I have to be out in the rain, shouldn't I have rain clothes on?"

"Oh, hush, Mary! I get so tired arguing with you. Do as I say and wear your blue coat and hat. That's partly what we're going for. And about Grandma! Why are you so possessed to walk over there by yourself? It's two blocks and something might happen to you. No, you can't do that today."

"What's wrong with this picture?"

I'll tell you. To begin with, when Mary made a wise and sensible choice, her mother snipped off a promising bud of initiative. When will parents learn how important and necessary a thing this quality of initiative is?

Mary was not being disobedient. She was exercising a child's right to analyze something for herself and make a perfectly reasonable and justifiable statement to her mother.

Children learn the phrase, "Mother knows best" or "Father knows best" usually with a mental reservation. Being sensible, reasonable, and not at all stupid little people, they know that as many times as not neither mother nor father actually do know best. In this case Mother didn't. She should have recognized, to begin with, a symptom of initiative when she saw it, even so simple a matter as a coat. And there was the element of common sense.

Unquestioning and blind obedience a parent has a right to demand and must demand in fundamental things, which the child must understand and recognize. But without any right to voice his personality he becomes a puppet. Another thing! The mother put fear into Mary's mind by auto-suggestion. She was "afraid" to let her cross a street. She should not have said so. To caution her about being careful in crossing a street would have been different. She had told Mary "next time," and now she was hedging.

Psychologists will tell you the far-reaching results of misstatements or broken promises by parents to children.

Is a child to get his earliest and most startling example of untruth, equivocation and broken pledges (all examples of dishonesty) from the very parent who has told him it is a sin to lie?

Can we expect him to grow up with a hole-proof code of honor and a set of principles that won't stretch upon occasion, when from sheer imitation at first, and a sense of justification later, he has followed the example of a parent?

BLIND, EDITS BOOK

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—One of the several existing journals for the blind is "The Braille Mirror," published at Los Angeles by Robert Atkinson. Atkinson was stricken blind when 35, and at once turned to the problem of journalism for the blind. He invented special stereotyping machinery and presses for Braille type. The journal even carries advertisements, in raised type.

BEAUTY CHATS

DIET AND BEAUTY

There is simply no use in trying to be beautiful, or healthy, if you do not eat right. After all you (the physical you, that is) is composed of the air you breathe, the water you drink, and perhaps even more important, the food you eat! Now then, what do you eat?

How much of it?

Your complexion, your figure, your entire outlook on life most probably depend on your lunch and dinner today, and for the last several dozen yesterdays.

What then, do you eat? If you are anemic, you need one sort of diet, something for strength, so you won't hate getting up mornings, and having to use rouge to keep from looking like a death's head; and if you are too full, blooded, you'll have to have quite another sort of diet, to do away with thick blood, high blood pressure and such things. Marvels and magic are accomplished by the food you eat. In this space a couple of times of a week, this subject is going to be discussed.

Dietetics has become an involved and complicated subject. Graduate dietitians are making large salaries in hospitals, and living in private homes, watching the family diet, ordering meals, reducing one member, making another fatter, building health and strength for a third, and curing diabetes in a fourth. I know no better investment for the rich man who can afford the salary and the cost of another member of his household, than this of having a personal dietitian. But we'll do our best here as a substitute.

Isabel—I should be glad to tell you all about the making of a fine cream, but it will take too much space at this time. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and the information will be mailed to you.

Reggie: Agar agar is a Japanese seaweed sold in bulk form at the drug stores. It is not a purgative although it cleanses the system.

Bobby: A thin mucilage made from "gum tragacanth" will help to keep the hair in curl but nothing will really keep straight hair from getting out of curl when the weather is damp.

Mildred: A formula for your freckles will be mailed you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow—Legs and Short Skirts.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

Here's a sensible man! Fortunately he's head of a girls' college where his sensibleness can be well utilized! He's president Henry Noble MacCracken of Vassar, who addressed his sweet young things in this wise in his commencement address:

"Bury yourselves for a time in an entirely different atmosphere. If you have majored in literature or philosophy, spend the summer with a cook book!"

"The real danger of college is not that there is too much contact in the wide varieties of intellectual experience afforded."

"The duty of colleges is to give some training in that deeper sort of communication between personalities—all personalities, not just college personalities."

SUZANNE COLLECTS COINS

Countless wise-cracks will be made, of course, over the fact that Suzanne, Queen of the Racquets, has taken up the hobby of coin-collecting. Most of the wise-cracks will take the slant, of course, that everybody knew that she started that when she turned professional. Suzanne, making a feverish tour of Parisian stamp houses, has collected more than $4000 worth of old and rare coins.

HOBBIES

Garden variety people who are not Suzannes, and who complain of their boring and monotonous lives, might well follow her example, of acquiring a habit. If she, with all her resources for abundant living, needs a hobby, how much more do we? Wish you could see the water lily pond I have just completed with little flagstones walks about it—that's my present hobby!

PANCAKES A LA FLOOD

It might not be so bad to be a refugee! At the camp for flood victims in Monroe, La., where some 3000 refugees are gathered, a Sunday dinner of roast lamb, creamed potatoes, corn on the cob, coffee, orange mousse, and tea, coffee or milk, was served for 13 cents. Pancakes are baked for breakfast on a griddle that holds nearly 500 at one whack. The home instinct is such, though, that most of us would prefer a bone gnawed in our own hotel to a banquet eaten a la community plan with no sense of privacy or ownership.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY

How this business of woman's beauty does agitate the universe! The Governor-General of French West Africa has pronounced a jail term of from two to five years to all women who seek to beautify themselves by piercing the upper and lower lips and inserting wooden plugs as big as hats until the lips are stretched almost from ear to ear, and speaking and eating are difficult. The women say that if they are not allowed to so adorn themselves, no man will wed them and they will be what- ever is Senegalese for "old maid."

Which proves again that beauty is only geographical!

Life's Niceties

HINTS ON ETIQUET

1. Upon learning of the death of a friend, should one call, telephone or write condolence and offers of assistance for arrangements?

2. When are flowers sent for a funeral and where? Which are better form, formal set pieces or loose bouquets?

3. Must black be worn by friends attending a funeral?

THE ANSWERS

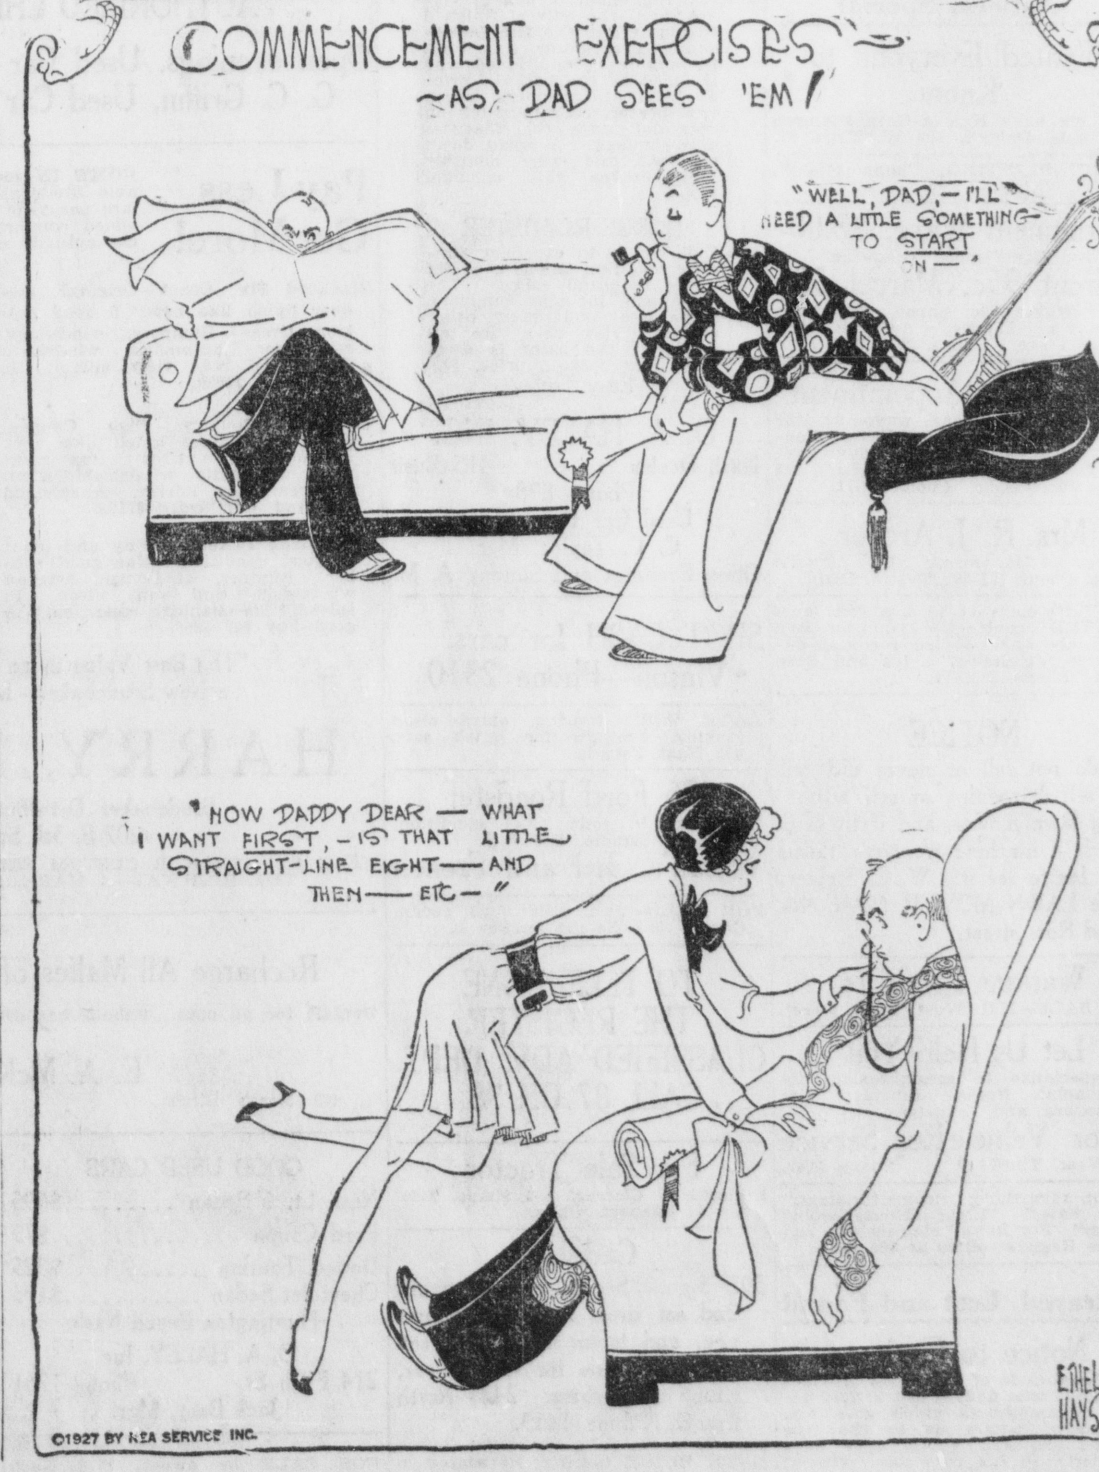

1. If a personal friend, either call or phone. Otherwise send a sympathetic note.

2. Send loose bouquets or soft wreaths to home or church shortly before services.

3. No. Any dark clothes. Never sports or gay attire.

WE VALUE PUBLIC RESPECT
Twelve years ago Mr. O. A. Haley set out in business in Santa Ana. He had a policy that has been adhered to throughout these years and which is largely responsible for the big success he has enjoyed as an automobile dealer. This policy of Mr. Haley's has been and still is to tell the truth, to give good value for money invested, to give fair appraisals to the best of his knowledge gained through past experience on used cars, and to carry out the factory policy with which he is doing business. With this policy fresh in your mind, we invite you to come in if you are contemplating buying a new or used car, and look over our stock. You will find the best values and some of the best bargains in used cars that we have had in the past years of our business.

ENSIGN TAKES OVER RUM SHIP SINGLE HANDED

NEW YORK, July 5.—Ensign Charles L. Duke, former gub and newspaper reporter and now of the United States Coast Guard, should have been a pirate.

As a pirate Duke probably would have roved the Spanish Main in a rowboat waiting for venturecom and treasure-laden men of war to appear and be captured. His loot today was valued at $500,000.

Duke was patrolling the outer area of the bay here on duty in a coast guard launch manned by two men in addition to himself. A 1000 ton tramp freighter slipped past quarantine with two faint lights showing. Duke ordered his craft in pursuit. His armament consisted of a revolver in his pocket.

In good piratical fashion, Duke came alongside the tramp and ordered her to stop. The vessel continued on her course. Duke fired two shots across her bows, thereby reducing her armament to three bullets. Still the tramp did not stop.

Duke ordered his launch alongside and clambered aboard. "If I'm not out of the pilot house in two minutes turn the machine gun on them," Duke shouted to his crew of two men, who hadn't any machine.

"Where do you think you are going?" inquired a member of the tramp's crew.

Duke whacked the seaman on the head with his revolver and proceeded to the bridge. The skipper was there. Duke told him to stop. Sensing that the skipper was unsympathetic, Duke pulled him in the ribs with his revolver and spun the wheel.

The tramp freighter Economy, with 22 members of her crew and a cargo of 150,000 gallons of raw alcohol, was Duke's prisoner. Even though the Economy went around on Jersey mud flats, as Duke had intended that she should. The six men above decks were sent below, where Duke ordered them to remain while he awaited assistance from the Coast Guard station.

END OF SOVIET SUPPLIES FOUND

PEKIN, July 5.—One of the documents seized when Chang-Tso-Lin's soldiers raided the office of the Soviet military attaché in the Russian legation compound here listed the arms and munitions delivered to the first Kuomintang, or the army commanded by Gen. Fang Yu Hsiang, "the Christian general."

The list covers the period from June 5, 1925, to January 4, 1926, and includes 14 different kinds of war supplies. Translation of all of the documents, together with photo-static copies of the originals, are being sent to Washington as fast as translations are completed.

Military and diplomatic officials of the British and American legations vouch for the authenticity of the documents quoted.

Ten thousand chemical shells and 30,000 gas masks, 24 guns, 10 trench mortars, 90 Maxim machine guns, 21,570 Russian three-line rifles, 4000 ing in Long Beach only a short cornerer's inquest.

Japanese rifles, 1000 swords, 500 spears, 11,648 high-explosive shells, 10,516 shrapnel shells, 1000 shells for trench mortars, 1,531,781 Russian cartridges, 499,000 Japanese cartridges, 10,000 hand grenades were among the items enumerated.

These materials were sent to General Fang against the Siberian railway and through Unga, capital of Mongolia. Although there were reports of the sale at the time, both the Soviet authorities and General Fang denied existence of such supplies.

Theater Magnate Thwarts Bandit

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—After a squad of 50 policemen had combed Pershing square and the vicinity of the Biltmore hotel for more than two hours, search for a bandit who attempted to hold up the Pantages theater was abandoned early today.

The theft of $14,000, week-end receipts of the vaudeville house, was thwarted by Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, who was in the theater offices when the holdup man entered and ordered Pantages and five employees to hold up their hands.

As the holdup man walked to a wall safe, Pantages dashed out of a door to summon help and the bandit fled, pursued by several actors from the theater. The man escaped to the vicinity of Pershing square, where a search was conducted.

4 Believed Killed In Train Collision

IONA ISLAND, N. Y., July 5.—Several persons were injured and physicians believed four persons were killed today when a south-bound New York, Ontario and Western passenger train on the West Shore railroad followed a switch into a siding and struck a standing combination train.

Physicians who entered the front car of the passenger train reported four persons were still imprisoned there and that they believed all of them to be dead.

SHAMING MR. ALADDIN

HARD LIQUOR IS ON SPORTS BLACKLIST

PARIS, July 5.—Hard liquor is on the blacklist in French sports. Light wines and beer are not mentioned, but what the French call "alcohol" is persona non grata in training camps.

This "temperate" stand was taken for the first time by French sporting federations at a recent Olympic committee meeting. Although it was sniggered at the time, temperance newspapers now publish the text of the declaration, which reads:

"Alcohol is a pernicious beverage which excites temporarily. This excitement is followed rapidly by depression and a diminution of strength. The use of alcohol impedes effort. It diminishes efficiency, whether in sport or professional work. Anyone, sportsman or worker, who seeks an increase of strength in alcohol will find only deterioration and disillusion."

Brest Plans To Build Monument To U. S. Soldiers

BREST, France, July 5.—The municipal council has approved the plan for the erection of a monument to the American soldiers who entered and left France through this port during the World war and after the armistice.

Out of 2,082,000 American soldiers landing in France, 791,000 first touched French soil at Brest where "duckboards" made possible the walking of the muddy roads to the American camp. The proposed monument is to be 70 feet high and will be erected in the Cours Dajot overlooking the anchorage and gulf.

Queen's Book To Be Printed Soon

VIENNA, July 5.—Marie, queen of Rumania, traveler and authoress, at last has finished her long-heralded book, "Voices From the Mountains," and will release it for publication before the summer is over, according to an announcement given to the press by a Vienna book publishing firm which has obtained the German language rights for the novel.

In the publisher's announcement it is stated that the book describes the spiritual life of a European queen. Its publication date is awaited with considerable interest, not only because it is understood to be a work of some artistic value, but also because of the publicity given to Marie by her American trip and the perennial stories concerning the intrigues centering around the Rumanian throne, due to King Ferdinand's sickness.

Convicts Fail In Attempted Break

MARQUETTE, Mich., July 5.—Officials of Marquette penitentiary today started a thorough search of all buildings inside the prison walls and examined prisoners in an effort to determine how guns used in an attempted break late yesterday were smuggled into the cells.

Led by two men armed with revolvers, 30 of the most desperate convicts in the upper peninsula first touched French soil at Brest where "duckboards" made possible the walking of the muddy roads to the American camp. The proposed monument is to be 70 feet high and will be erected in the Cours Dajot overlooking the anchorage and gulf.

Messengers Are Robbed Of $5000

TACOMA, Wn., July 5.—Three bandits today held up two messengers of the Tacoma Railway and Power company and escaped in an automobile with $5000.

COUNTRY GIRL DUPES MAYFAIR INNER CIRCLE

LONDON, July 5.—The ease with which society is duped by clever swindlers, but how difficult it is to "get away with it" is illustrated by the case of Josephine O'Dare, Mayfair society girl, who has just been sentenced to four and a half years penal servitude.

Josephine O'Dare, whose right name is Teresa Agnes Skyrmes, was born in 1899 in an obscure Herefordshire village, the daughter of a day laborer. When she was 20 years old she came to London, went to work, cultivated the most exclusive families in Mayfair, and finally set up her own Mayfair establishment.

Entertained titles She entertained many titled women and rode to the Quorn hounds. At Ascot, Goodwood and all the smart race meetings she played the part of a carefree, sports loving woman who would cheerfully bet a hundred pounds or so on a horse she fancied.

Meanwhile there was another side to the picture. Her Mayfair flat was alleged to have become the rendezvous of swindlers and card sharps who welcomed the knowledge of Mayfair society to their part of the game. She was charged with having associated at various times with "Bludge Bill Warren" who is serving a prison sentence in the United States, and a "Lord" Morrison, an international swindler and card sharper, now in prison in Austria.

She was so successful in her conquest in Mayfair society that at one time she employed a press agent. He duly notified the newspapers that Miss O'Dare had three ambitions—to own a Derby winner, to train the winner, and to become a member of Parliament.

On the strength of her ambitions, she was admitted, to membership in an organization of young society persons who organize treasure hunts and charity benefits. She began to entertain more and more at the Ritz, the Berkeley and other noted West End resorts.

Finally she went bankrupt, and with creditors pressing, the hidden side of her life became known. She was convicted of forging the will of a Birmingham lawyer whereby she had obtained a large sum of money. Five men, associated with her in swindling, were charged with having associated with her in swindling, banks and were fleeing Mayfair society flock, were given prison terms ranging from 15 months to 12 years.

Only One Woman In Germany Sits In School Chair

COLOGNE, July 5.—Despite the advance of feminism, it is reported that in all Germany there is only one woman occupying a professor's chair. This is Frau Professor von Wrangel at the agricultural high school of Hohenheim, near Stuttgart, Wuertemberg. In all the universities there is not one.

In Italy, however, there are at least four—Rina Monte of the chair of zoology at Milan; Pia Natti in mathematics at Pavia; Rita Brunette in experimental physics at Ferrara, and Cecilia Dentice d'Accadia in philosophy at the Cagliari University, Sardinia.

There is a contrast between these brief lists and the long roll of women professors in America.

Hawaii Forester Uses Snowshoes As Tourists Swim

HONOLULU, July 5.—While visitors from the mainland were enjoying the warm waters of Waikiki last month one of Hawaii's foresters was tramping over the snow fields of Mauna Kea, island of Hawaii, planting the seed of mainland pine, fir and hemlock in an effort to start a forest on the upper slopes of this giant mountain, which towers 13,225 feet above sea level.

This forester, L. W. Bryan, used snowshoes to cover some portions of the mountain, and his plantings were made around the 13,000 foot level. During the last winter, while the tropic shores of Hawaii island have been getting goodly portions of rain, the summits of Mauna Kea and its sister mountain, Mauna Loa, have lain deep in snow.

Old residents of the island say that the excessive fall of snow is the result of an attempted comeback by Haupoli, the snow goddess, following the fiery display last April of Madame Pele, goddess of the volcano.

Diabetes Seen As Degeneracy Sign

BERLIN, July 5.—Considerable discussion has been aroused in the German medical world by the recent lecture of Dr. Hans Ullmann, head of the medical clinic at the Charite Hospital, in which he noted a startling increase of the death rate from diabetes throughout Europe and the United States and classed the disease as one of the signs of modern degeneracy. Professor Magnus-Levy and Professor Brugsch, other eminent medical authorities, agree with Dr. Ullmann that diabetes is hereditary.

FUNERAL TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—Funeral services will be held here this afternoon for James Madison, manager of the Sunnyside Raisin Growers' association from 1912 to 1917 and recently a packing and shipping magnate here. Madison's death was caused by heart disease.

BILLY EVANS

Owen Bush was a star as a big league ball player. It looks very much as if he is to repeat his success as a manager.

As pilot of the Pittsburgh club he is showing the way to the rest of the National league managers and is favored to win. He has a good team and is handling it well.

Bush gained his fame in the big show as a member of the Detroit Tigers of the American league. Well do I recall his debut as a member of that club.

Detroit had won the pennant in 1907 and seemed to have enough stuff to repeat. However, late in the year, due to injuries, the club had a makeshift infield. Help was badly needed at shortstop.

A youngster by the name of Bush was going big for Indianapolis. The scouts pronounced him a marvelous fielder but many had their doubts as to his ability to hit his big league pitching.

Bush, by the way, was the property of the Detroit club at the time. He had been secured in the draft from South Bend of the Central league and sent to Indianapolis for seasoning.

Indianapolis was in the thick of the pennant fight in the American association and Bush, a home townboy, was a big favorite. Detroit would have liked to have recalled him early in the season but held back until the close of the minor league race.

I happened to be the umpire in charge of the first game Bush played in the American league. I doubt if any recruit ever made a more sensational start in the majors, particularly as to fielding.

On three occasions he went to his left into second base territory and made one-handed stops of balls which the late Herman Schaefer, playing second, couldn't quite reach. In each instance he got his man at first.

Schaefer, who had a keen sense of humor, would argue with Bush after each ball as to his coming into second base territory, using much pantomime. The crowd realized it was all in fun and Schaefer's antics helped Bush to a great getaway.

Bush played 20 games for Detroit that fall and his sensational work aided greatly in the winning of the pennant by the Tigers.

As is usually the case, Bush upset the dope and made the expert opinion of the scouts look bad, by hitting the ball 50 points better than his minor league record.

Bush joined the club too late that fall to be eligible in the world series. No doubt the Tigers would have made a better showing against the Chicago Cubs had he been in the lineup.

As a player, Bush was of the pleasingly aggressive type. He fought very inch of the way, but was always the gentleman, never the rowdy.

There never was a harder loser in baseball than Bush. He thoroughly liked to win. I have my serious doubts as to whether he

HECTIC BATTLE WITH ROBINSON CAPTURED. 1 UP

Country Club Championship Decided on 36th Hole as Victor Trails

Courageously coming from behind on the last few hard-testing bunkered stretches, Ed Holmes Jr. became the golf champion of the Santa Ana Country club Sunday when he nosed out the hard-fighting Homer Robinson, 1 up, after 36 holes of the most bitterly contested final match in the history of the local organization.

Holmes won by the narrowest of margins—won after his opponent had led him by varying margins since early in the morning round of 18 holes.

Robinson cracked on the sixteenth hole coming home in the afternoon, taking a 6 on a par 4 hole and enabling Holmes again to tie the match after he had slipped on the fifteenth and let Robinson get out in front.

Holmes, thus encouraged, proceeded to shoot a par 3 on the short seventeenth while Robinson was short on his approach and then pitched over the green, putting Holmes 1 up, a lead which he refused to yield on the long eighteenth, which they halved with par 5's.

Holmes shot the morning 18 in 85 and the afternoon 18 in a red-hot 77 while Robinson negotiated both the morning and afternoon rounds in 81. Robinson completed the first 18 holes 3-up on his opponent but was unable to maintain this pace when Holmes began his sizzling work later in the day.

This was the second time in three years that Robinson was barely nosed out for the club crown in the final match, losing by the same margin to John Tubbs in 1925.

Winners in all other flights of the annual tournament also were determined over the holidays. H. B. Van Dien vanquished William Rohrbacker, 1 up, to win the second flight. R. E. Graves defeated L. H. Wallace, 5 and 3, to take the third flight. J. S. (Ski) Fluor Jr. won the fourth flight by beating E. B. Van Meter, 1 up. Don Andrews annexed the fifth flight by trouncing Dr. V. A. Rossiter, 4 and 3, and N. J. Warner captured the sixth flight, by whipping L. C. Denison, 3 and 2.

Week-end Ball sweepstakes, medal play, were captured by Lawrence Bemis and J. L. Ainsworth, who had net 69s. W. E. Chilson, G. B. Shattuck and Dr. M. A. Patton tied for third, all with net 73s.

William Rohrbacker was victorious in the blind bogey tournament. Others placing were Ed Holmes Jr. and R. D. Crenshaw.

M. K. Beatty won the flag tournament, finishing 40 yards from the pin on Hole No. 19. F. E. Farnsworth and C. D. Holmes tied for second place.

H. T. Richards outdistanced a field of 27 golfers in the monthly medal play competition for the William Lorenz cup. He shot an 85, less 18, for a net 67. "Jud" House romped in next with an 89-20-69 to nose out Lester Carden who had 88-16-70.

Dien vanquished a substantial supply of balls to his golf-bag by leading the Class A field in the July 4 ball sweepstakes, shooting a net 71 to win from H. B. Van Dien, George Parker and W. E. Chilson, all of whom tied for second. H. T. Richards was best in the Class B competition, followed by Lester Carden, J. W. Law and R. A. Emison.

NEWEST CUB

Here's the newest infielder of the Chicago Cubs—Eddie Pick, former American association third baseman. Joe McCarthy's efforts to plug the weaknesses of his club, now that the Cubs seem to be in the pennant race, resulted in the purchase of Pick. Pick's batting and fielding made him one of the best third sackers in the minor league, but his worth in the majors in a pennant fight is to be determined.

S. A. ATHLETES STAR IN MEET: INDIAN WINNER

Santa Ana's three ambassadors to the National A. A. U. track and field meet at Lincoln, Neb., completed yesterday, all covered themselves with considerable prestige and glory.

Charley Webber finished a close second in the junior 120 yard high hurdles. Howard Paul was third in the junior broad jump and Harold Breeding ran a sensational first lap for the Los Angeles Athletic club in the four-man, four-mile relay which was won by the Southern Californians. Webber and Paul competed for the Hollywood Athletic club.

Breeding, according to word received here today, finished his first lap only a yard behind Slavik, the veteran Illinois Athletic club ace, who was second in the senior mile run Saturday, beating among others in this race Nick Carter, the Angeleno who recently took the measure of Edwin Wide.

Humphrey and Lunney, the other Los Angeles runners, also held their own with the Illinois club, which offered the only serious opposition, so that Carter began the final mile on even terms with Conger, the Illinois man who won the senior mile. Although defeated by Conger Saturday, Carter came from behind on the last lap and thrashed the Illinois anchor-man to bring victory to the L.A.A.C. quartette.

Webber and Paul are expected to return here in the next few days but Breeding probably will remain in Lincoln another week visiting relatives.

INDIAN ATHLETE WINS DEATHLOUN TITLE

LINCOLN, Neb., July 5.—Faith Elkins, University of Nebraska Indian athlete, accumulated a total of 774.42 points to establish himself as deathloun champion of America at the close of the National A. A. U. track and field meet yesterday.

To do this Elkins won first place in the broad jump, tied for first in the 100 meter run, placed third in the 100 meter high hurdles, and javelin throw and scored second in the 1500 meter run.

The total point score established a record for the American deathloun title. The former record was held by Harold Osborn, Illinois A. C. who obtained 7531 points in 1923.

Illinois Athletic club won the relay championships with 13 points, beating the New York A. C. by two points. Los Angeles was third with 10 and Newark A. C. scored eight for fourth.

The world record in the 440 yard relay was lowered to 41 seconds flat by Newark A. C. after it had been broken in a previous heat by the New York A. C. team which ran the distance in 41 2-5. The old record was 41 3-5.

Michigan State ran third in the 440 and Los Angeles A. C. fourth. Illinois A. C. won the two mile and one mile relays while New York A. C. won the half mile.

Judges decided 5 to 4 that Chester Bowman, Newark A. C., was victor Saturday in the senior championships 100 yard dash over Charles Borah, Hollywood A. C. The race was run in the world record time of 9 3-5 and the finish was doubtful.

Cromwell Returns From Meet By Air

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Dean Cromwell, U. S. C. track mentor, who has trained many fleet-footed sprinters, goes in for flying himself tomorrow when he makes an airplane hop from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles.

Cromwell returning from the National A. A. U. meet at Lincoln, Neb., will be a passenger in a Western Air express plane piloted by Fred Kelly, former world champion hurdler from U. S. C.

By making the Utah-Nevada-California hop Cromwell will be back at his course in track coaching at the U. S. C. summer session in record time.

TILDEN'S GREATEST MENACE

French Tennis Star Was Given Five Years to Gain His Greatness or Warned by Rich Father to Quit Being 'Mere Sportsman'

By MINOTT SAUNDERS

PARIS, France, July 5.—Jean Rene Lacoste, French, English and American singles champion, is at last able to play tennis without fear of parental criticism. Since his father saw him beat Tilden in that fierce match for the French championship at St. Cloud, Papa Lacoste has become one of his staunchest backers.

Such was not always the case. When Rene was a lad of 16 he went to his father, who is one of the controlling directors of the great Hispano-Suiza Motor Car company, and confided his youthful ambition to be a famous tennis player.

Papa Lacoste was amazed that his son, so well fixed in worldly opportunities, and so well brought up, should stoop to be a mere sportsman. He argued, threatened and persuaded but young Rene was determined.

"Very well," said Papa Lacoste, "if you are determined to be a tennis player I shall allow you five years of indulgence, but be sure you are a champion by then!"

It was a formidable task that the elder Lacoste, closely calculating business man, put upon the slender shoulders of his son. But Rene set out to make good.

Twice Beaten Tilden At 22 Lacoste has twice beaten Bill Tilden, hitherto the greatest player the world has produced. Many critics believe that, with youth on his side, he will do better than break even with Tilden this year, and that he will be Tilden's master in years to come.

By nature Lacoste is an aristocrat. He has an habitual reserve, even in defeat, which is very disarming to his opponents. He will never be a great popular champion, as Carpentier was a boxer, but he will probably be a consistent winner for years to come.

The secret of his supremacy is his perfect accuracy. In this respect he is uncannily like Suzanne Lenglen. He is always content to exchange volleys for volleys, confident that his opponent will make the mistake. And every year this accuracy has become more telling with Lacoste.

Painstaking Practice Tells The most painstaking practice has brought about the Lacoste control. He is a great student. He was always proficient in mathematics, and he has studied tennis curves as he would geometrical angles. He was surprised recently by a friend in his bedroom, tossing a tennis ball against the wall and studying its reactions.

When on the court Rene leaves nothing to chance. He usually appears with a supply of six rackets. He makes sure that just what he wants to drink between games is ready for his hand. His broad-brimmed cap is like a mask, and his opponent can never divine what is going on behind it.

Like his great and more popular teammate, Borotra, Lacoste has the blood of the Pyrenees. His mother is a Basque, and from her he has inherited his dark complexion.

Unlike Borotra, he has none of the exuberance of the Basque. From his father, the successful man of affairs, he has inherited his coolness and calculating brain. He has the complex of the victor, with an abundance of self-assurance to such an extent that many critics can only concede.

He is today the outstanding menace to American tennis supremacy.

NIGHT PLAYERS ENTER LAST OF OPENING ROUND

Santa Ana Night League

W. L. Pct.
Santa Ana Lumber Co. 5 1 .833
P. C. Blauer Grocery 5 1 .833
Herman Typewriter Co. 3 3 .500
First National Bank 3 3 .500
Chandler Furniture Co. 2 3 .400
Platt Silvertowns 2 3 .400
Santa Ana Firemen 1 5 .167
Dutton Fords 1 5 .167
Chandler and Platts have game to play.

Gliding along at a pace which so far has proven much too fast for the other Santa Ana Night league teams, the F. C. Blauer Grocers and the Santa Ana Lumber company continue to lead the Lincoln park loop by a margin that cannot easily be erased within a week's time.

The two clubs, playing inspired bluff in every department, getting commendable pitching and backing it up with stout robust hitting, have won six of their first seven starts and enter the last week of the first round without displaying signs of cracking.

Pressed Last Week Both clubs were pressed to the limit last week but won by playing heads-up baseball, the Blauers thumping the Chan'lars in a slugfest and the Lumbermen stopping the Platt Silvertowns in a torrid pitcher's battle.

Tonight's imbroglio between the climbing First National bank and the Lumbermen introduces another bargain week in the lunar racket, one that will be punctuated somewhere along the line by a double-header and will be topped off Friday evening with an encounter between these traditional enemies in anything athletic—Santa Ana and Fullerton, both well-up contenders in the Orange County Night league.

Bankers Climbing Fast The Bankers began the season looking anything but dangerous but Gene Hitt, one of the city's finest moundmen, has obtained some assistance from his mates in recent games and now has his team headed for the top. The Lumbermen guard their laurels zealously if they would stay at the top after this evening's brawl.

Randolph Bell's Tiernan Kids, the team with plenty of "it," goes against the hard-hitting Chandlers tomorrow night and the Dutton Fords crash into the Santa Ana Firemen Thursday night.

SPECTATORS BARRED FROM JACK'S CAMP

SARATOGA LAKE, N. Y., July 5.—Spectators have been barred from Jack Dempsey's training camp in which he will endeavor during the next fortnight to master a new technique of fighting in preparation for his bout with Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium July 21.

Dempsey and Leo Flynn, his manager, believe further public performances would add to Dempsey's training difficulties and the public is barred unless they change their minds.

About 3000 persons were disappointed yesterday because they could not watch Dempsey workout against his seven sparring partners.

There had been rumors of a postponement here owing to the suicide last week of Johnny Dempsey, the former champion's brother, after he had shot and killed his wife. Flynn, however, said there was no thought of altering the fight date.

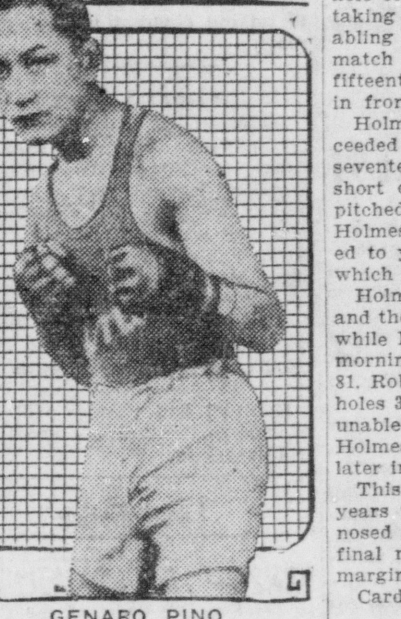

BOWLING

Matches scheduled for local bowling teams follow:

Business Men's League
Wednesday—Robertson Electric Co. vs. Kelly Roofing Co.; Thursday—Jermans and McDonald vs. Royal Cleaners; Friday—Buick Autos vs. Registrar Scriveners.

Booster League
Wednesday—Spencer Collins Men's shop vs. Swift's Premiums; Friday—Keller's Service station vs. Seidel market.

PRIDE OF CUBA

Here's Genaro Pino, Cuba's clever flyweight and bantam champion, who is going to make his first fight in the north on July 4. This battler, hailed as the ghost of the late Joe Gans, is said to be one of the greatest fighters ever come to the United States from the southern island. He arrived at Chicago recently from Havana.

MISS WILLS IS ONLY AMERICAN TO WIN ABROAD

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 5.—Out of the tennis wreckage strewn by Americans all over the European courts, only Miss Helen Wills emerged strong enough to withstand the next assault of the foreign stars in August and September.

Bill Tilden, making a serious attempt to come back, was beaten in the French and Wimbledon championships and he didn't get as far as the finals at Wimbledon.

Francis T. Hunter was beaten. Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American champion, was conquered by a child novice and Elizabeth Ryan was defeated. The remaining stars of American tennis can be counted on one finger—Bill Johnston.

Miss Wills looks like a certainty to win the women's national championship which she had to surrender last year by default. Miss Kitty McKane Godfree is expected to come over with the Wightman cup team and Senorita De Alvarez, the Spanish star, may be persuaded to come over and add color to the championship.

Mrs. Godfree always has been a troublesome opponent for Miss Wills but unless the Spanish star has improved her tennis a great deal since the writer saw her last year her chances against the American girl were at least a little overrated.

There are some who think that Tilden may come back in the National championships and win from one of the French invaders. His defeat by Cochet may have been due to circus tennis and underestimation of Cochet. Tilden knows better than to underestimate Cochet.

His defeat probably was due to the lack of stamina and bad legs.

Billy Evans Says

PASADENA, Calif., July 5.—Deducing from her study of the heavens proof of the long-advanced theory that sun spots have a definite connection with magnetic disturbances on the earth, Miss Hazel M. Lesh, youthful astronomer whose work at Mount Wilson observatory has resulted in her appointment to a faculty position at the University of Michigan, predicts that this year or the next will witness a series of heavy magnetic storms.

Substantiating her statement, she asserts that on September 12 of last year, the appearance of a large group of spots on the sun was followed two days later by a magnetic storm that continued until the sun's rotation carried the spots out of sight. With their reappearance, the storms resumed.

A similar series of events took place in April of this year, Miss Lesh says adding that these sun spots become numerous at 11-year intervals. This year or next will see the maximum period, but with even more spots than normally come, and consequently more magnetic disturbances.

Drs. Paul A. Merrill and Milton L. Humason, also observers at the Carnegie observatory on Mount Wilson, have completed a search for the cool stars in the heavens, revealing that the coolest of all has a temperature of 2600 degrees Fahrenheit, and that the ninth moon of Jupiter, one of the faintest bodies known to astronomers, is strongly affected by the sun, although it is 483 million miles distant from it.

He Still Reads Roll Call At 91

Now, at 91, he reads the old roll call of his Civil war unit, but there are no replies, Babler is the last of his command.

He can "walk as well as he ever could," he stoutly maintains when offered lifts wherever he goes.

"They won't let me go fishing alone any more, either," he complains. "They think I'll fall in. Humph! All they want me to do is to tend garden. I went out hunting potato bugs and found six. No fun in that."

Park C. Of C. To Convene Tonight

BUENA PARK, July 5.—The regular meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held this evening in the Golden-Schumacher-Tripp building, at which time a number of important matters are to be discussed.

BUENA PARK NEWS

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Mrs. E. W. Thurman attended the meeting of her bridge club at the home of Mrs. Frances Millings and Mrs. Edna Krueger in Anaheim last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson spent the week-end in San Francisco.

Percy Owens and Ronald Wright are enjoying a vacation at the Grand canyon and at Flagstaff, Ariz.

Lewis Robison and Virginia Knott returned Saturday afternoon from Pomona college, where they attended the Congregational Young People's conference the past week as delegates from the local Christian Endeavor society.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Andrews and daughter, of Long Beach, called on Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Owens Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Calder and Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson are spending a two weeks vacation at Yosemite. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones and family, of Yuba City, are staying at the Robertson home during their absence.

Miss Gertrude Wells and Miss Dorothy Worley are staying at the home of Miss Wells, uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilcox, in Alhambra, while they are visiting in Portland, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Owens and Mrs. H. P. King spent the week-end at Owens' ranch at San Marcos.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cromwell and family and Jim Sheldon and Elwood Wooten spent the week-end at Newport Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Golden have moved from Eighth street to the apartments in the G. S. T. building.

Brea Test Well Down 6300 Feet

BREA, July 5.—The Shell company has drilled its Brea canyon deep test well to about 6300 feet, according to field reports, and shows no sign of stopping short of a world record. The project is designed to furnish a complete cross section of the Brea canyon field as far into the earth as it is mechanically possible to go.

Dahlia Show To Be Staged Sept. 2

BUENA PARK, July 5.—A meeting of the Dahlia show committee was held last week at the Buena Park Woman's clubhouse to further plans for the Dahlia show, which will be held here September 2.

One of the features of this year's show will be the Dahlia queen dance to be held in the evening following the program, which will be given in the school auditorium.

A fund is being raised for advertising the show throughout the Southland and the local business men are responding generously by buying tickets in $5 lots.

The committee in charge of this year's show is composed of Mrs. Carrol Snyder, chairman; Mrs. B. R. Shinn, program; Mrs. L. T. Wilsey, exhibits; Mrs. Herbert Hunt, tea room; Mrs. C. V. Black, candy; Mrs. Ernest Rennie, prizes; and Mrs. F. B. Jones, publicity.

The committee from the chamber of commerce is composed of C. L. McComber, John Siddall, W. E. Gundy and Henry Schmitz.

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Escrow papers were filed last week for the purchase of an eight-acre site for a new school in this section. The site selected faces Stanton road, between Commonwealth avenue and Fourth street, on the Coleman property. The land was purchased for approximately $6,000, or $800 an acre.

As soon as the escrow is completed bids will be called for the construction of the new school building which it is hoped to have completed before the opening of the fall school term.

The new school building will cost approximately $30,000. Bonds totaling $34,000 for the new school were voted April 25.

Fire Damages Room At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, July 5.—Damage estimated at $100 was caused to the furnishings of a room by F. A. Mathews in the Cypress Villa court at Cypress and Central streets, when fire, caused by a discarded cigarette, ignited a bed. Quick work on the part of Fire Chief Frank Crocker and his crew averted a serious blaze.

The structure in which the fire occurred is owned by Mrs. Anna Wilby.

AGREEMENT NEAR YORBA LINDA IS LEASED FOR OIL

YORBA LINDA, July 5.—The Standard Oil company has leased 34 acres of land north and west of Yorba Linda, paying $300 an acre bonus for the lease to property owners.

The 28-acre ranch of Mrs. Anna Lemke, just west of the Yorba Linda tract line and south of Gaudin avenue, was leased to the company.

On the Yorba Linda tract the six-acre property of George Stevenson, of Fullerton, and William Everett, Jr., of Anaheim, was leased to the same firm for $2,500 bonus. Both properties also carry a rental of $10 per month until drilling is started.

The Everett property is vacant and adjoins the ranch of Mrs. Mary Keay on Citrus avenue on the west. Interest in the leases is due to the Holly Development company well and the Lemke well of the district on Caroline avenue.

Coring to pick up the upper sand is now in progress on two of the wells drilling immediately south of Yorba Linda, both of which are making good progress.

The Swain No. 1 of Geo. W. Johnson is below the 3000 foot mark and coring ahead slowly. Casing is on the ground and it is expected the pipe will be set soon as the zone is picked up.

The Damon No. 1 well of the Nugent Drilling company was coring ahead at 2315 feet Wednesday and expected to pick up the sand around 3100 feet.

Surface casing has been set in the Yorba Linda Water company No. 1 well, drilling east of town by the Standard Oil company.

The Union Oil company is building a set of tanks on Highland avenue, at the foot of Deering hill, and pipe lines are being laid so that oil from wells on the east end of the lease can be collected there by gravity. All the wells are higher than the tanks and oil will be flowed to them and then pumped into the pipe lines.

The Union is drilling ahead on well No. 10 and is building a rig for Y. L. G. No. 15 on this lease. No. 15 is at the east edge of the lease and will offset Anaheim Union Water company No. 2 of the Standard Oil company.

BUENA PARK, July 5.—Escrow papers were filed last week for the purchase of an eight-acre site for a new school in this section. The site selected faces Stanton road, between Commonwealth avenue and Fourth street, on the Coleman property. The land was purchased for approximately $6,000, or $800 an acre.

As soon as the escrow is completed bids will be called for the construction of the new school building which it is hoped to have completed before the opening of the fall school term.

The new school building will cost approximately $30,000. Bonds totaling $34,000 for the new school were voted April 25.

Fire Damages Room At Newport

219 CARS OF ORANGES SENT EAST IN WEEK

FULLERTON, July 5.—Citrus shipments for the past week from the northern Orange county district totaled 219 cars of oranges and 25 cars of lemons, according to a check-up made from the various houses.

The Northern Orange County Citrus exchange shipped 173 cars of oranges and 25 cars of lemons. Shipments by the independent houses were as follows: American Fruit Growers, 12 cars; Fullerton Packing company, 13 cars; Badington Fruit company, 3 cars; C. C. Chapman, 6 cars; Benchley Packing company, 12 cars.

New Pastor For Friends Church In Yorba Linda

YORBA LINDA, July 5.—The Rev. George Dahler, who comes from Denair, Stanislaus county, is to be the new pastor of the Yorba Linda Friends church and will preach his first services here July 10.

The church work of the Rev. Dahler is known to many members of the local church. His son, a student at Whittier college last year, was choir leader here for some time.

The Rev. Dahler has an enviable record in church work in Iowa, as well as California, where he has been for the past six years. His work among the young people at Denair has been especially successful.

$33,000 PAID STOCKHOLDERS OF LOAN BODY

ORANGE, July 5.—The Orange Building and Loan association at the end of the fiscal year had the largest amount of resources in its history, totaling $1,750,000.

Interest and dividends totaling approximately $33,000 were mailed to its stockholders on the first of the month. This is the largest single payment ever made by this firm. Twelve hundred individual investors, mostly in Orange, received payments at this time.

Displaying a steady and consistent growth the resources are now approaching the two million dollar mark, which is the highest in the institution's history, according to Osman Pixley, secretary.

Hazel G. Engle, Chas. Caldwell Wed In Redondo

ORANGE, July 5.—The marriage of Charles H. Caldwell to Hazel G. Engle was announced today by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bills, of East Chapman avenue, Orange. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Harry Hill, former pastor of the Orange Christian church, at his present home in Redondo Beach.

The party, including Mrs. Des Lages, of Orange, who sang a solo, and Miss Elva McGill, a friend of the bride, motored to Redondo last week for the ceremony. They will live in Orange when they return from their honeymoon.

THIEVES RAID HEN HOUSES IN ORANGE AREA

ORANGE, July 5.—Complaints by several ranchers in and around Orange have been coming into the city hall lately urging that something be done to stop the chicken thieves who have been raiding their hen roosts. While there is no evidence that the same gang is responsible for all the raids, Chief B. F. Richards and Motor Officer Horace Inge, who have been making the investigations, believe that all the raids were made by one group.

The largest single catch made by the thieves was from H. H. White's pens, where 40 chickens were taken at one time. Two other victims were W. E. Winterrowd, 294 North Tustin street, and J. E. Prentiss, of 2310 East Walnut avenue, who lost 15 and 5 chickens, respectively.

NEW LA HABRA LODGE TO HOLD INSTALLATION

LA HABRA, July 5.—La Habra Masonic lodge, U. D., will hold its first regular meeting next Wednesday night in the Masonic temple on East Central avenue.

A dispensation from the grand master of California, permitting the lodge to start work, was received last week. The lodge will operate under this dispensation until the next meeting of the grand lodge when, it is expected, a charter will be granted.

The public will be invited to the opening meeting, which will include among other features, installation of officers. This ceremony will be conducted by H. C. McMaisters, of Fullerton, inspector for this district.

W. A. Linsdell, well known in Masonic circles all over Southern California, is to be the master of the new lodge. Gordon Cameron, oil man, is senior warden and Caludge Ridgeway, junior warden.

The program for Wednesday evening will include an address by a prominent Mason yet to be selected, entertainment features and refreshments. Following the public entertainment there will be a closed session of the lodge for the transaction of important business.

ROWELL ON SMOKING IN FORESTS

Just to keep the record straight, attention of Register readers who read a contribution by Charles F. Havens appearing in the Public Forum column of The Register last Saturday is directed to a few paragraphs appearing in Chester H. Rowell's column of Friday.

Havens, in his contribution, declared that Rowell had criticized the United States Forest Service for having put into effect an order against smoking in danger areas in the National forest. We read that article, the same one that brought forth the Havens letter, and we didn't even get the suspicion that Rowell was not in agreement with the Forest Service. The subject of the Rowell article had to do with the limiting of one's liberty; the limitation of liberty in smoking on the public domain is accepted, while the liberty of drinking whiskey is cause for bitterness. In contrast, Rowell used some sarcasm, and, as is so often the case, sarcasm seems to have been mistaken for something else.

At any rate, friends who have known Chester Rowell for 25 or 30 years say that Mr. Rowell not only does not smoke, but never has smoked; that Mr. Rowell is an expert camper, as demonstrated on many long journeys in the Sierras; that Mr. Rowell is an earnest advocate of the protection of forests, and has been ever since he began writing editorials for the Fresno Republican in the late '90's, that he advocated strict regulations in the national forests long before regulations of that sort were popular.

Mr. Rowell's column of last Friday had the following:

There are many matches struck in the world to light something besides tobacco, but nearly all of these are struck by some one who is thinking about what he is doing, to light a fire in a place made for fire, with some one whose business it is to care for that fire. The "smokes" alone are ignited everywhere, and thrown away everywhere, by people thinking of something else, in places not made for fire. The result is that they start more fires than all other such causes combined.

Of course the remedy is not to prohibit tobacco. The public conscience would not sanction that. But it might well be a much more active education of the people, to make them continuously conscious of this the most careless of fire hazards. The whole world has become nearly as inflammable as a powder magazine. If we can not put up a "No Smoking" sign over it, as the powder men do, we may at least insist that smokers be careful. The forest service and the fire underwriters are engaged in useful crusades to that end, for which the dry summer season is particularly timely.

And that ought to settle it. Mr. Rowell is quite able to take care of himself in any kind of a crossing of pens. In his absence, however, the record is herewith made plain.

SAME OLD PROBLEM

Orange county has its own problem; the same one, by the way, which has demanded attention since the age in which Noah took thought as to how best to secure protection against floods.

And it may be that in the work of providing flood protection Orange county would do well to avail itself of the knowledge on that subject manifested by the work of Li Ping, a Chinese engineer of 2000 years ago, whose plan for control of the Min river, in Szechwan province, does the work even today.

The crux of Li Ping's plan was expressed by "Dig the bed deep, keep the banks low." In other words, the idea was that a flood raised the river's bed, and control by banks or levees simply meant higher and higher artificial banks. The Yellow river, "China's Sorrow," for instance, was not treated by Li-Ping, and in many places its bed is now 50 or 60 feet above the level of the plain.

The unwisdom of the flood protection system in vogue in the Mississippi valley is now plainly apparent, and it is stated, upon reliable authority, that the federal government and valley states have spent the huge sum of $20,000,000 on levees and other controls of the Mississippi.

The manifest departure from old Li Ping's plan of work is demonstrated by the fact that the river has been lifted 15 or 20 feet above the city of New Orleans. Moreover, as sediment raises the bed of the river, decreasing the rate of flow of floods, the backing up of the waters must inundate larger and larger territory.

It is not a moment too early for our Orange county people to give attention to flood protection and matters appurtenant thereto.

FRENCH-AMERICAN TREATY

There is no good reason why the United States should not enter into such a treaty with France as the French government proposed two months ago, outlawing war so far as these two nations are concerned. France is ready; the United States government is said to be friendly to the proposal; the public in both countries would doubtless welcome it; the French parliament and the United States congress might be expected to ratify it.

Not that there is any danger of war between America and France. But many thoughtful Americans believe that such a treaty would be a big contribution to world peace, because it would be in the spirit of Locarno, continuing and extending the famous treaties by which Germany, France, Great Britain and Italy agreed to keep peace among themselves.

It has been the fashion among some Americans to scoff at the Locarno compact. But no less an authority than former Chief Justice John H. Clarke, familiar with international law and keenly interested in all peace efforts, declares that Locarno represents the high water mark of civilized diplomacy, going far beyond the League of Nations, for which he has great respect.

Those four European powers have bound themselves by intervenient obligations, Britain and Italy agreeing to go to the aid of either Germany or France if one is attacked by the other. In the present case there would be no such complication. It would be a direct, simple agreement by which America and France would tell each other and the world that they intended to submit all disputes to peaceful methods of settlement.

It would be merely an extension of the peace treaties this country already has with many nations. American authorities say it can be accomplished without endangering the Monroe doctrine or any other essential national policy, and without any entangling alliances. If so, may it go forward promptly!

Let's Be Moderate

San Diego Union

A Brooklyn schoolgirl wound up her prize-winning essay on Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh with the statement that, "He's the bravest man, I think, that ever lived." That statement, utterly sincere, is mild by comparison with some of the hyperboles given currency by that little girl's elders; but that sort of thing is regrettable from every point of view, for its tendency is to destroy some very valuable properties in both the hero and the hero-worshippers. We admire Lindbergh, not only for his exploit, but because adulation of this extravagant sort has wholly failed to destroy the qualities in him which adulation tends to destroy. We ought to restrain ourselves also out of regard for his young admirers.

It is not fair to the little Brooklyn girl, for example, to teach her that Lindbergh is the bravest man that ever lived. To do so is to teach her to undervalue the courage latent in brave men and women about her. It is to destroy her sense of proportion—a rare quality, insufficiently guarded.

Not far from here there is a young rancher who once proved himself quite as brave as Colonel Lindbergh. The young man was an American aviator, flying in a formation which one morning became involved in a "dog fight" over Verdun. He was wounded, chased out of the flight with his ship temporarily out of control; and then, in his careening plane, 12,000 feet or so above the ground but safely out of the "forced landing" behind the lines, he got back up again and taking another chance. He went back up. He got the D. S. C. for what he did that day; but now he is just a young rancher—"an ordinary man."

Cases might be multiplied. We all know of some. It is foolish to minimize the great fund of courage inherent in ordinary people, by asserting that any one man has all the courage there is.

Corporation Income Tax

Glendale News

The declaration by Congressman Tilson in favor of a reduction in the income tax on corporation earnings by the coming Congress will meet with hearty approval from the business interests of the country.

Every class of income tax has been reduced in the last few years except that imposed on the corporations. Business partnerships and individual firms have been benefited by reductions, but the corporation income tax is practically as heavy now as it was five years ago.

Not many people realize that every incorporated company, under the present law pays 13 per cent of its net income to Uncle Sam in income tax. Compared with all other taxpayers, this is a gross and unfair discrimination against every incorporated business firm whether large or small.

This heavy taxation is a distinct burden upon business and contributes in no small degree to keep up the price of commodities. The manufacturer and the merchant have to take it into consideration in making prices at which to sell their goods and the consumer, in the great majority of cases, pays it with added percentages on it to cover overhead expense. A reduction in this form of tax is long overdue and would have an important bearing upon the cost of living. We believe the rate might fairly be reduced to 8 per cent and still produce as much revenue as the government will require. Such a reduction would certainly stimulate business and be a benefit to the whole country.

We are glad Congressman Tilson realizes the fairness of reducing this tax. No other action by Congress would have a more beneficial effect upon the general prosperity than a radical reduction in the income tax rate on corporations.

Editorial Shorts

Redlands merchants are naturally critical of the reduction of the license fees charged "itinerant merchants," as the festive peddler is called, in the language of a dignified city ordinance. It is a fact which we need to keep in mind all the time that the home merchant pays taxes on his stock, his property of every kind, he helps to support the other merchants by buying from them. Indeed, he is the very backbone of our commercial existence. And he should be well protected against the incoming of those who have no thought save to get some of our good money and take it away with them.—Redlands Facts.

DIET IN HEART DISEASE NEEDS MOST CAREFUL REGULATION

When the heart is affected so greatly that the person cannot keep up his usual activities, the entire body will be found to be in an exhausted condition.

Dr. Fred M. Smith points out that the proper procedure under such circumstances is to provide a diet that will not impose an excessive load on the circulation of blood, but will at the same time give sufficient nourishment for the ordinary activities.

In an attempt to determine the best possible diet for persons with heart failure, it was found that milk and carbohydrates or sugar substances should form the major portion of such a diet. A simple diet that was developed included 44 grams of protein, 110 grams of fat and 222 grams of carbohydrates, and heat energy value of 2100 calories. Most of the diet consisted of milk, cream, butter, eggs, vegetable purées, cooked cereals and fruit juices. These things were given in small amounts.

Frequently when the heart fails there is a tendency for water from the blood to accumulate in the tissues. Under such circumstances the amount of liquid taken in is limited to about three pints a day, and the amount of salt is reduced to a minimum. If it is found that the person gets along well on this beginning diet, jelly, salt-free crackers, toast and stick candy may be added to the diet on the third or fourth day. On the eighth day, if the patient still continues satisfactorily, puréed fruits and puréed vegetables are added to the diet. The diet is kept soft in order to aid digestion, since practically all of the patients are constantly in bed, and it is only as they are improved that the energy and the nature of the food are changed.

Patients who have failing hearts are put to bed at absolute rest. If necessary, drugs are used to strengthen the heart beat, to aid the action of the bowels and to promote sleep. The proper use of remedies in such conditions is an indication of the manner in which medical science uses every possible advantage provided by chemistry, physics and pharmacology to give the patient a chance to recover from his disease.

Under proper treatment by diet, the excess of fluid is controlled so that water does not accumulate in the tissues and the person is provided with sufficient energy to give his own assistance toward his recovery.

American Conditions Best In The World

Pasadena Star-News

The American who complains of his lot in life is taking a narrow and unwarranted view of conditions in his land as compared with the status of other lands. President Coolidge gave emphasis to this thought in a very striking way in addressing a group of South Dakota legislators and their wives, who visited him at his summer White House in the Black Hills. Mr. Coolidge, in his few words, gave his countrymen an expression of a broader, finer, more comprehensive spirit of optimism, and a true conception of what the American flag means. A few sentences from the impromptu talk by the president are quoted herewith, as expressive of the healthy wholesome confidence and courage which are typical of Americans:

Here in South Dakota, as in Vermont, we are under the same flag and let me leave this thought with you: Anyone who has an occupation, or, as they say on the street, a job, no matter whether in industry, agriculture, or commerce, that person may be assured that he has the best occupation or job of anyone on earth. That is what the American flag means. Of course, it is natural that we want to better our condition. That is the American ideal. It is also well to remember that wherever we are in America we are in a station better than anywhere else on earth.

This is not bragging, or vain boasting. It is just a sane, sensible appreciation of America and its opportunities at their full and true worth. When Americans sit down and intelligently take stock, they realize the superiority of this land over any and every other land in its opportunities and its resources. This should inspire confidence, hopefulness and courage, to strive on for betterments, but all the while content and assured that America does not suffer in comparison with any nation or people under the sun.

Worth While Verse

QUIET WORK

One lesson, Nature, let me learn of thee
One lesson which in every wind is blown,
One lesson of two duties kept at one,
Though the loud world proclaim their enmity.

Of toil unsever'd from tranquility;
Of labor, that in lasting fruit outgrows
Far noisier schemes, accomplish'd in repose,
Too great for haste, too high for rivalry.

Yes, while in earth a thousand discords ring,
Man's fitful uproar mingling with his toil,
Still do thy quiet ministers move on.

Their glorious tasks in silence perfecting;
Still working, blaming still our vain turmoil, Labors that shall not fail when man is gone.

—Matthew Arnold.

Time To Smile

MERELY THE METER

A visiting minister was preaching on the subject of "giving" at a small chapel, and during the sermon he noticed that a member of the congregation crept quietly out of his seat, and, going to the side of the chapel, placed a coin in a box. A little later another did the same thing.

Never, thought the minister, had his sermon met with such a practical response.

On leaving the chapel he was accosted by one of the members. "I hope we didn't disturb you, sir," he said, "but ours is a penny-in-the-slot meter and we should have been in darkness if we hadn't attended to it."—Tit-Bits, London.

SAVING ON THE SOAP

Tommy, who had no great love for soap and water, was observed by his mother washing the forefinger of his right hand. "What's the idea of washing only one finger?" she inquired. "The boy next door has asked me to come over and feel his baby sister's new tooth," explained Tommy.—Boston Transcript.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

This afternoon it got dark quicker than usual and the first thing I knew I was late for supper again, and just then I remembered about pop saying yesterday if I was late one more time this week he would make a object lesson out of me.

Me thinking, Gosh shang the luck, heck. Wich jest then Puds Simkins started to go pass and I had a idee, saying, Hay Puds, do me a favor, will you?

I dont know, wat? Puds sed, and I sed, Ring my bell on your way pass and tell them Ill be home in a few minits because I had a little axident and I haff to wawk slow.

All rite, Puds sed. And he kepp on going around the corner and I sat down on the pavement and leened agens the wall to wait a little wile, thinking, G, good, now wen I go home looking all rite theyll be glad to see me under eny circumstances.

Wich I hadent hardly thawt it wen who came running around the corner excited but pop, and he started to go pass looking for me wen all of a suddin he saw me sitting there, saying, O, heer you are, wats a matter, wat happened? Wats all this about a axident?

I tripped over a stuck up brick, I sed. Wich I did, only not this afternoon, and pop sed, You wat, why that? Simkins monkey thod me he thawt you fell out of a window or something, he wasent quite sure, get up out of that, Ill help you to wawk fast.

Wich he did by grabbing a hold of the back of my collar and making me wawk so fast I had to run to do it, seeming less and less like a good idee and even less after we got home.

THE FLIVVER AND CIVIC GEOMETRY

Get out your city tax bill.

Across it you will see, if you look sharp, a shadow—the rapidly moving shadow of an automobile.

Tax questions may be propounded in terms of rhetoric and answered in terms of arithmetic, but you will never get at the heart of the business until we consider what havoc the humble flivver has played with our civic geometry.

Geometry, if we trail along with old Euclid and keep Einstein and Henry Ford in the background for the moment, concerns itself with three dimensions—length and breadth and thickness.

So far as the American city is concerned, the automobile has upset every cherished civic idea about all three, and even yet we do not know where we are at.

Just at the end of the late lamented Nineteenth century folks were very sure of themselves and they knew what they wanted. Mr. American City Dweller wanted a home just about three-quarters of a mile from his store, on a tree-lined street no more and no less than one block away from the street car line; and what was the use in paying a special paving assessment when a macadam street, occasionally sprinkled in summer, was good enough to get the survey in and out of the barn? He had even then begun to doubt the artistic validity of the iron deer on his lawn, but there was no doubt about the hammock under his trees as the place for the tired business man at the end of the late afternoon's lawn mowing. Tastes were simple, times were placid, taxes were low.

How now? He wants a "little place" out by the country club, not over six or eight miles from the office if possible, and from that office to that place he wants a pavement. He wants his pavement thick, and his ideas in thickness have gone up from five inches, to six, eight, even ten inches in just a few years. He wants his pavement wide. He cannot be stopped as he speeds to his golf and there must be room for him to park as he stops for his fellow-devotees of the foursome on the way out.

The sixteen feet of macadam that sufficed for the survey ought now to be twenty-four, thirty, forty, even sixty feet wide for the road out to the club. He wants his pavement long. Every foot of the way to his "little place"—he will bring it around to the garage himself. To the club of course. And on? Certainly. To where? Well, from Quebec to Miami, say, and from Washington to San Francisco with branches taking in everywhere else.

And it is in the matter of pavements he wants things thicker and wider and longer, and is getting them, dare we comfort ourselves with the dangerous delusion that Mr. American City Dweller will stay confined within the three dimensions of Euclid?

What did Euclid know? Did he ever step on the gas? No. Mr. American City Dweller, and his cousin Mr. Farm Tiller, as well, has outgrown Euclid. He may not know Mr. Einstein, but he is well-acquainted with Henry Ford.

When he gets his hands on the steering wheel and his foot on the gas he peers through a windshield into a world of the fourth dimension that Euclid would never dare to explore with his old-fashioned notions. In that world of speed he is changing his notions about what to be done around town. He sees more of the city and more of the country. He meets more of his fellow-citizens; and the alchemy of gasoline has transmuted much base metal from the unknown dumps across the railroad track into the pure gold of goldfom.

He lives a deeper, broader and a longer life, and to enrich his experience in its extended boundaries he requires much more from his municipal servants than did that good man of the Nineties who found his exercise on his own lawn, his goal of beauty in the iron deer and his haven of rest in the hammock.

And if he, the stout and slightly graying President of the Rotary club and chairman of the greens committee is so minded; what of the on-coming generation? What of Flaming Youth?

Asking a casual question of a nurse in a modern maternity hospital (I was really seeking serious information but she was too young to recognize such a curious quest) I was told what was the standard routine when a baby is born.

"First," she said, "we give him a shower and a rub-down, then an orange in one hand for the vitamins, a bunch of spinach in the other for the mineral salts, teach him to run a Ford, and then take him in and introduce him to his mother."

Even before he is born, the New Citizen demands that his City shall have served the coming generation. Through babyhood and into the playground and the kindergarten, the city must provide. The schools must be improved, and there must be better teachers better paid.

The thicker, wider, longer pavements must be built, and kept clean, too, and as the motor car shortens the distances between neighbors, it lengthens by an equal degree the number of sewer and water pipes the city must lay and pay for. (Old Euclid refuses to be utterly cast out.)

Mr. American City Dweller who thinks the time has come to cut taxes back down to where they were in the Good Old Days had better drive slowly tonight (for if we go back to those good old days the city can't afford traffic lights and traffic cops) and walk out to the little garden by the garage and look deeply into the crystal gazing globe. He will find that since his father sold the store and went into the bank, that since the survey gave way to the flivver, that since things have happened as they have our civic geometry—all things are changed. Tastes are no longer simple. Times are no longer placid. Taxes are no longer low.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT if rightly used, advertising is the power that is the real factor in making better business. THAT it costs a whole lot of money to lose old customers and it costs money to get new customers. Why not keep the old ones and get the new ones by quality, service and truthful advertising?

THAT good advertising catches the eye.

THAT it commands attention. THAT it is read in every home. THAT it brings the customers to the stores.

THAT modern business methods build a business. THAT modern business methods meet competition.

THAT modern business methods embrace truthful advertising. THAT modern business methods keep the old as well as attract new business to a store.

TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING IS NOT BAIT; IT TELLS YOU OF ARTICLES OF REAL VALUE FOR YOUR MONEY.

Faith

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

LITTLE fears are sometimes fostered and so augmented that they assume mountainous proportions and run riot. Joan played robbers and scary things with the older children and had a series of frightening dreams. Every night she prayed in a panic, "Don't let me dream about robbers and Indians and poking men, etc." Reciting all the dreaded list. We finally persuaded her to reduce it to, "Don't let me dream all the things I hate, but send dreams about —" and then helped her innumerate all manner of happy subjects. Each time she listed the frightening things she merely suggested them more and more strongly to herself while happy thoughts prompted pleasant dreams.

AT night when dusky shadows creep And little folks should fall asleep, I used to say my prayers and then Lie frightened in the darkness when Nurse Nora said, "Good-night now dear," Because the night was full of fear.

But Nora says it isn't fair To ask the Heavenly Father's care And then keep right on thinking things I told myself the darkness brings. So now I say, "Watch o'er me God," And take the gladsome road to nod.
